Thornridge High School

Thornton Township High School

the Thorntonite for 1960

When you make two from one, both can be better than before — and that is what happened in Thornton Township. We had our FUN (page 48) together; we had our CLUBS (page 68) together; and we joined forces in our SPORTS (page 108).

As for our PEOPLE (page 144), we combined officers to lead our classes and divided our faculty to staff both schools. Next year we will be on our own but still good friends.

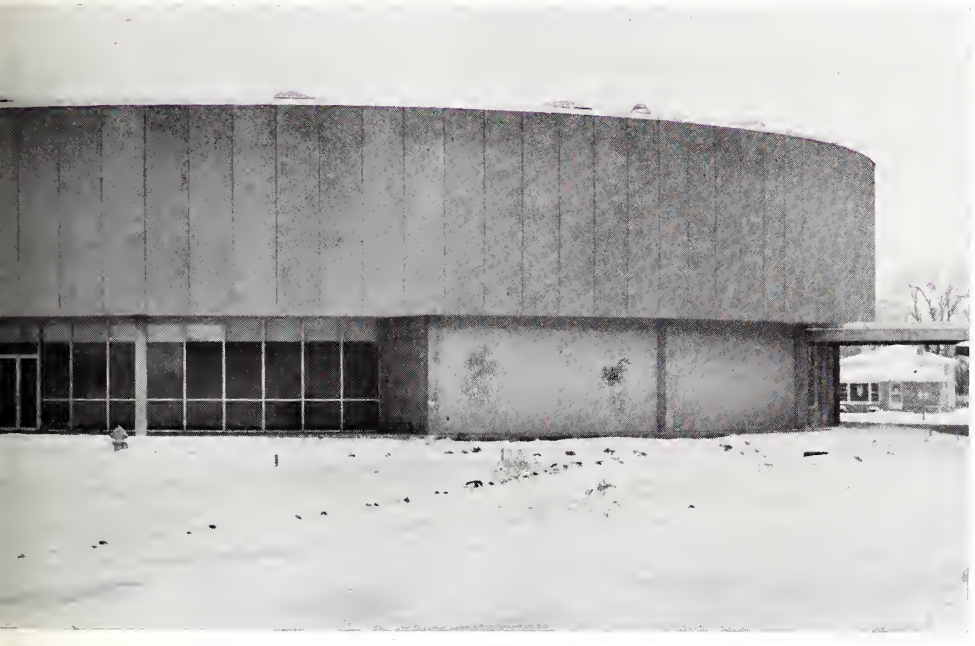
now there are TWO...



- Thornridge

Social Studies library was used as a study hall during the first semester but served its real purpose later.

Through the display window, anyone passing along the corridor could look at what went on inside.

It all began last fall . . . .

Enrollment was the biggest ever—4,256. Of that number, 1,145 were freshmen. Not only did they have to learn their way around but had to watch out lest they be shunted the wrong direction by the press of the crowd in the corridors.

Next in size were the juniors with 1,098 members, and then the sophomores with 1,078. Seniors had the biggest list of potential graduates—a whopping 935, an increase of 168 over last year.

On the faculty there were 46 new members, of whom only 16 were replacements. That brought the total to 216 in the high school.

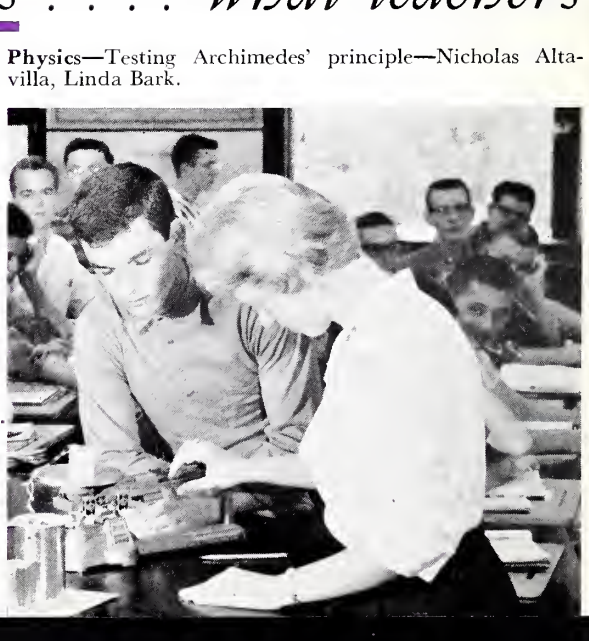
In spite of crowded conditions, opening of school was very orderly and everybody accepted the inconveniences with good grace. They knew things would be better second semester when Thornridge would open (fingers crossed!) and classes would be divided between the two schools.

Space mathematics challenged Miss Seebach's class.

Prop room—Dick Mager, Jim Etchison.

Everybody was curious . . . . what teachers

Physics—Testing Archimedes' principle—Nicholas Altavilla, Linda Bark.



English Class—Terry Tinich gives an oral report.

Clothing lab—Miss Gantzert helps Ann Munger and Karen Tapp with their pattern layouts and cutting.

would move . . . . and what classes . . . .

When programs were handed out on the first day of school, students who would be going to Thornridge found they were scheduled for classes where everyone else would be moving, including the teacher. That made things easier with fewer adjustments.

As the semester progressed, some changes had to be made because familles moved from one part of the district to another or faculty were re-assigned. When the move came, there was a re-shuffling of classes at Thornridge because of a shorter daily schedule. Thornton classes remained on the same program as before.

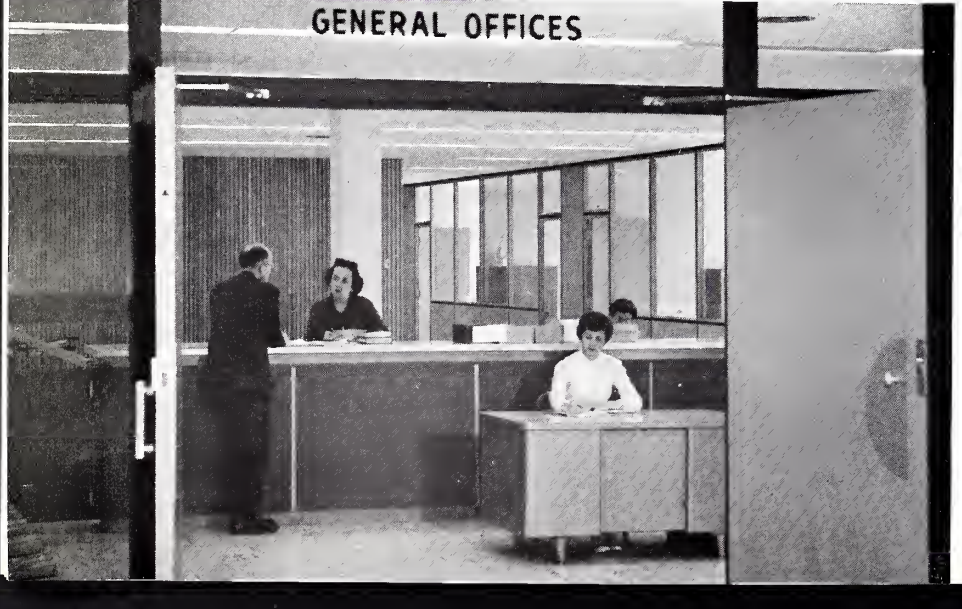
The move came in mid-year.



General offices—Mr. Avery, Mrs. Ruth Wills, Joan Wogum.

Maps in hand, Thornridge students and faculty made their way around the campus those first days. One faculty member made the mistake of zigging when he should have zagged and walked through a glass panel. Thereafter a gray stripe, at eye level, was painted on each panel to prevent future accidents.

Because the gymnasiums were not quite finished at moving time, all gym classes had to occupy temporary quarters. First aid and hygiene units kept them busy. Groups went on tour of the new facilities—boys classes one day, girls another.

New foods lab—Sharon Shelton at sink, Sandra Van Dommelen at stove examine the beautiful new appliances.

Thornridge was a big place to explore . . . .

Unfinished grounds made Thornridge look bleak on a cold winter day if you had to wait on the corner for a bus.

Faculty mailboxes —Mr. Anoe, Miss Nancy Ross.

We found adjustment

It didn't take long to learn our way around Thornridge, and we soon got acquainted with new members in our classes. Furniture was new and attractive; corridors were colorful and so were the classrooms.

Best of all, as far as faculty were concerned, each one had his own room—no more travelling from one room to another or moving out during a free period. There was adequate storage and plenty of space to put up displays.

Since the buildings were not entirely completed, there were some inconveniences. Music groups, scheduled for the auditorium building, knew there would be a long wait, maybe until fall.

Section rehearsal—Miss Chambers directs Jean Pekoz, Faith Flanders, Harry Nolan, and Laurel McDill of the Thornridge orchestra.

easy . . . .and classes moved intact . . . . a new student council was soon formed.

Cafeteria—It was fun getting used to the new steam tables.

Balloting for student council—Joan McMillan, seated; Jerry Beilfuss, casting his ballot in the elections.

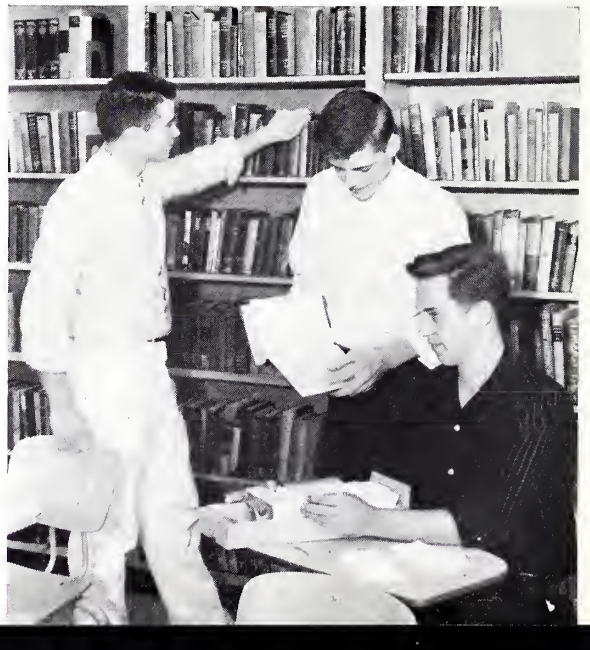
KIP office was always a busy place. Plans and projects had top rating.

Thornton carried

Thorntonites took a deep breath when Thornridge students left—now there was room to move comfortably. Best of all, there were enough seats in the gymnasium to go around so that once again we could have all-school assemblies. Crowds were easier to control and were better behaved because they were not so squeezed in.

School organizations functioned as before. Because meetings generally came after eighth period, there was time for Thornridge members to come over after their last classes. It seemed good to return to the old haunts if for no other reason than to brag about the new school. Sometimes they were even a little envious of all the activity going on at Thornton. A new school takes a while to get itself really running in high gear.

Social Studies Library—August Lentz, Lynn Morlan, Warren Letzsch could use the facilities at their leisure.



Purple X open houses included both schools, after games.

on as if nothing had happened . . . .

Group meetings gave Girls Club members a chance to talk. Beverly Matuska and Darla Edwards conducted this one.

Athletics

and Dramatics were still at Thornton . . . .

Prop room—Terry Rutherford, Ed Denson, Dick Mager, Roberta Tagsherer, Jim Etchison, Joanne Juskevice, Joyce Pinger, Becky Jones investigate all the facilities under the stage.

Basketball season was nearly over when Thornridge opened; there had been no time to develop the athletic field for spring sports. Consequently, all Thornridge athletes came to Thornton to practice and to play.

The beautiful new stage planned for Thornridge, with its latest in equipment, was located in the unfinished auditorium building and so no productions there were possible. Since "The Man Who Came to Dinner" was presented in the fall, before the move, and since "Androcles and the Lion" had an all-senior cast and seniors did not move, dramatics presented no problems. Everything was at Thornton. The variety show, "Circus," needed all the facilities of the big Thornton gym, but both schools took part.

and so were the social affairs . . . .

GAA Play Nite—Miss Begnoche, Mrs. Beier, Miss Broo, and Miss Coffland take part in a red-hot game of volleyball.

Dancing royalty—Bob Burdett, Terrie Kopac.

Dad-Daughter finale — Mr. Pavelin, Janet Kipley, Sandy Anders, Mr. Weiss, Erana Weiss, Holly Hoebel.

Helene Gottschling accepts award for the Junior Class float from Sandy Anders and Steve Benos, MC's.

Homecoming was the big event of the fall semester because it lasted for a whole week-end. The entire school was involved in decorating floats for the parade. Earlier, though, in September, Girls Club gave their traditional get-acquainted party, the Freshman Stand-Up.

Girls Athletic Association entertained their parents and Phys Ed teachers at a Play Nite in November and Girls Club invited their dads for the Dad-Daughter dinner just before Christmas. Some of the dads had to earn their way by being in the stage show following the meal—and did a good job.

Thornton's advanced Drawing and Painting has attracted enough students to be established as a separate class. The group did a window display for the community fund in the Telephone Company office and helped in the Christmas display, which was a departmental project. An exhibit of Thornton's art work was shown at the Teachers Institute at Rich Township High School.

Thornton's music department had its annual Tour Fund project of selling Christmas candy. Concert tours are usually planned every four years. Twenty-ninth Annual Spring Concert was the combined festival of the high school band and all the grade school bands in the school district 205.

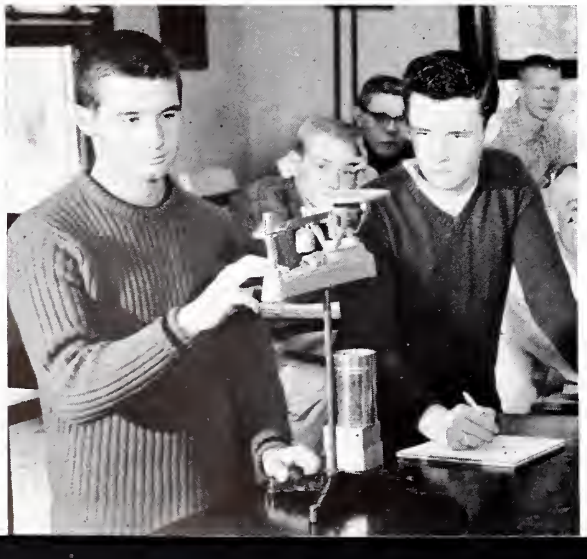
studies went on as usual at Thornton . . . .
Art and Music

Home Economics,

Clothing class—Jerry Kelley, sewing; Jane McGeath helping Margaret Dow; Mrs. Tondryk, in mirror; Carol Guerrero at machine—all at work on their part of a project.

Physics experiment—Bob Burdett and Harold Beagle demonstrate as the rest of the class watch with interest.



"A stitch in time saves nine"—as the girls in sewing class busily worked on their garments, the Home Economics Department flourished. Girls were taught to mend, darn, and patch and to make skirts, blouses, jackets, and tailored suits.

Luncheons, breakfasts, and desserts were served in the foods classes. In Homemaking I, girls studied basic principles of meat cookery, garment making, and meal planning. Homemaking II students prepared a Thanksgiving dinner and a Christmas buffet. Sewing projects were dresses with jackets or suits. Some of the girls made their Easter outfits including dress, jacket, and hat. Everyday Living girls were prepared for a future career.

Science and Math

Charts, diagrams of wind movements, graphs, and rock collections are some of the projects of students in the General Science Department. Results were shown at the Illinois Academy of Science Fair held last spring. Chemistry Club programs consisted of discussions to improve member attitudes toward chemistry. There also were field trips and films.

As in preceding years, Thornton's Math Department strove to give students a useful knowledge of sound mathematical principles. A counselor from the National Science Foundation helped promote this knowledge by spending one day counselling and advising faculty members and students.

Chemistry lab—Jim Lange and Pat Nolan demonstrate physical and chemical changes in the density of liquids.

Mathematics—Karen Greiner gives a report on nomographs to her Advanced Algebra class.

Language Arts took many related forms

Spanish—Lina Bellosillo, Philippine exchange student, admires John Crichton's jacket from Guatemala.

English rental library—Wendy Muldowney, Norma Anker, sitting; Eunice Weinstock, Rosamond Taylor, Leslie Burgess.

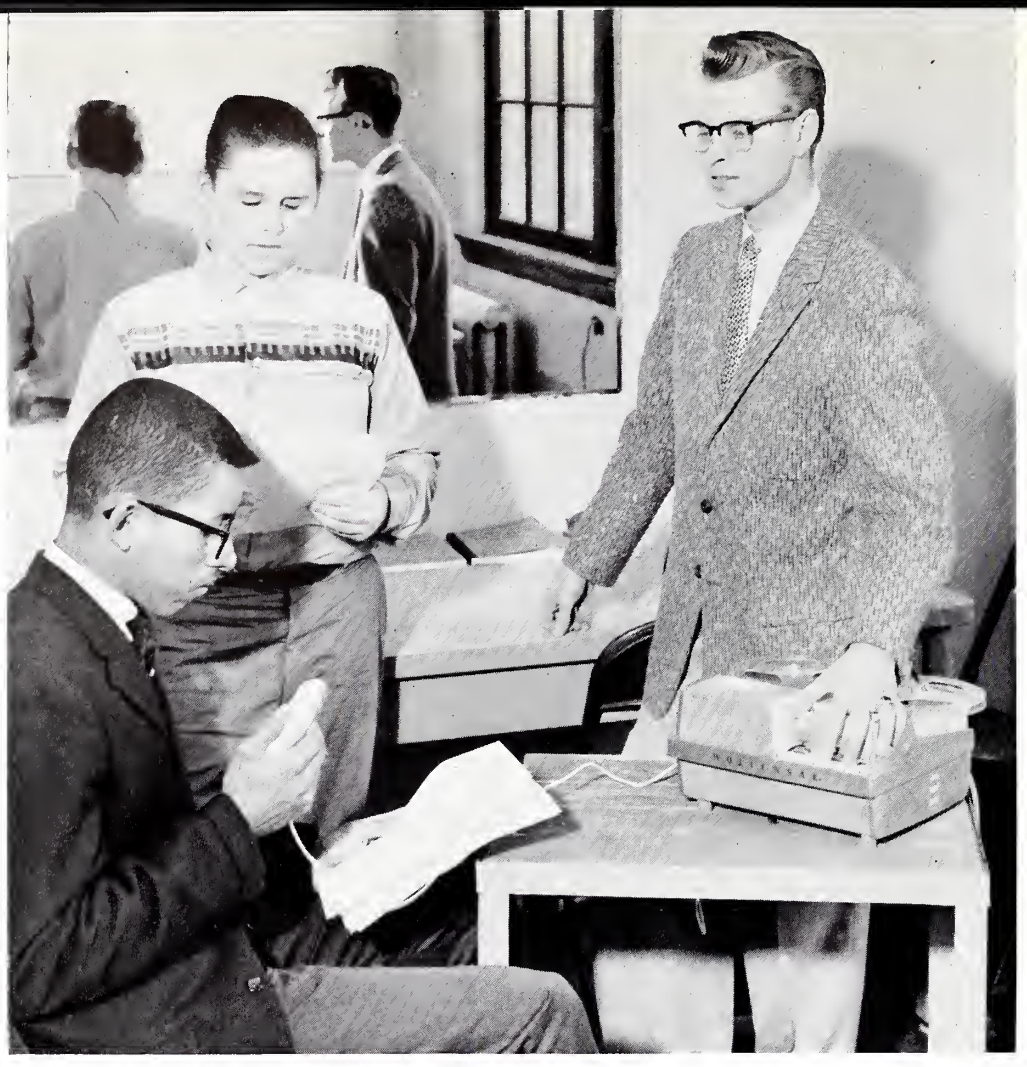
English—Gerrie Freese writes a quiz as Mr. Zechel's class carries on a recitation. She was absent the day before.

Graphic Arts shop—Mr. John Jenkins gives Harold Lipps and Dick Cooley some pointers about locking up a form.

Courses in speech correction and debate have been added to the English department, plus a related course in printing over in the Industrial Arts Building.

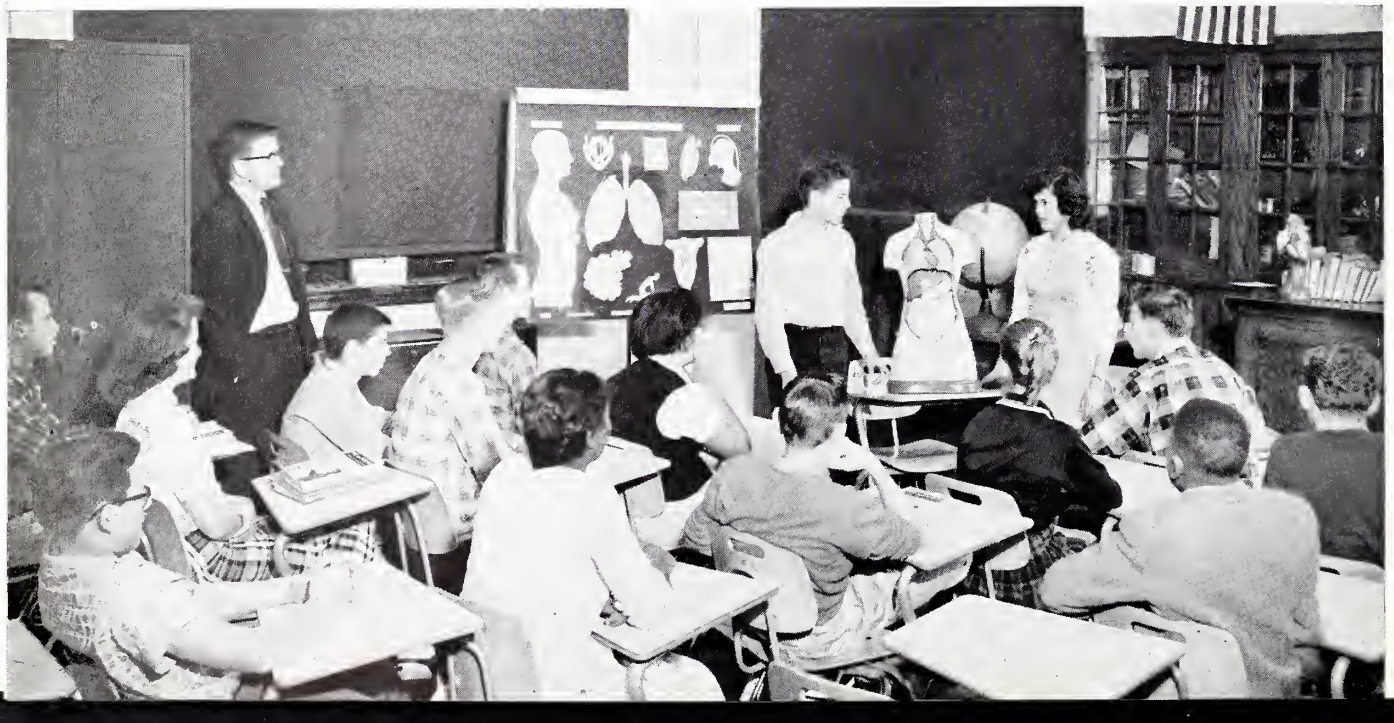
Print shop had all new equipment. Letter heads, name cards, calendars, and Christmas cards were among the projects students completed this first year. Instructors hope soon to have a course in offset printing for more advanced students.

Debate classes made a record called "Yearbook in Sound", on which they recorded many school events. Members of debate class sold the records as their money-making project of the year. The English department sponsored students in the State Speech Contests in April, with previous contests entered for warm-up.

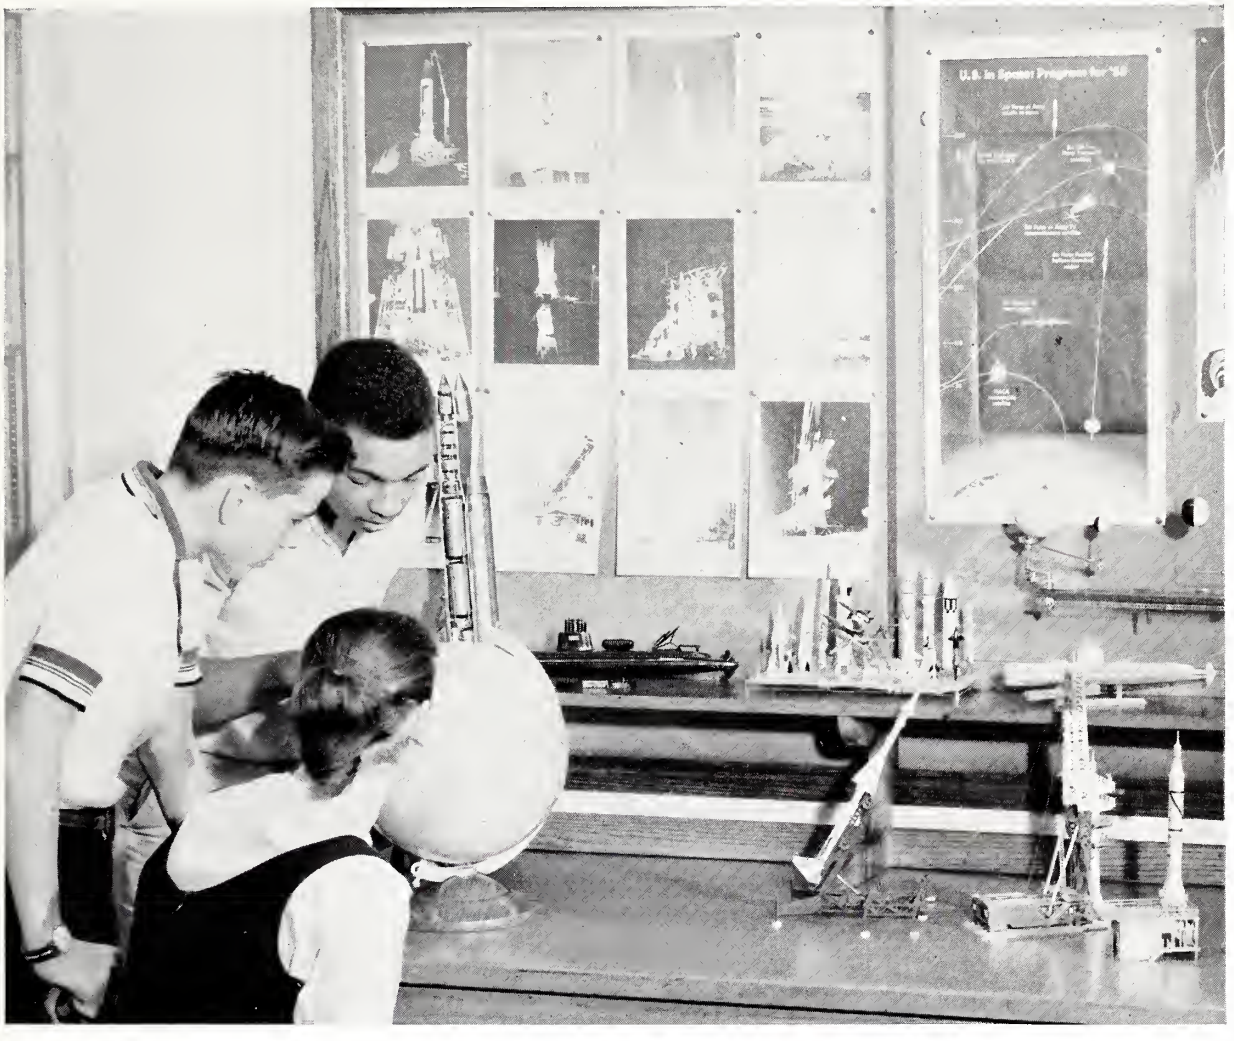


Speech Correction—Phil Goodar, Tom Simnick, Mr. Simpson.

General Science—Mr. Ed Jenkins and his class watch Norris Fields and Olga Oliveres give a demonstration.



Speech Correction and General Science



General Science—Eugene Baringer, Arnold Grzybowski, and Virginia Denzy get new concepts of the world in the Space Age from Miss Rio's class. They helped plan exhibit.

This year a course has been devised for students with speech problems stemming from nervous conditions, emotional upsets, and physical disturbances. Individual work was done in classes of three or four. Each student was given a program of study developed by a certified state therapist.

Numerous students worked on projects which were entered in the district meet of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science Fair—others were selected to be on exhibit at Thornton's annual Science Exhibit on April 11.

Languages were both heard and seen

Latin—Sonia Espen, John Lyrla, Susan Blessing explain a Roman aqueduct for the benefit of an advanced class.

Today's language students are encouraged to take third or fourth year courses to give them fluency in speaking and reading. In beginning courses, teachers stressed conversation more this year than they ever did before.

Tape recorders were added to language class procedures to help students to hear their own mistakes and those of others.

Using the jack box for listening to tapes, six students at a time, was also something new.

Thornton's curriculum offers three modern languages—French, German, Spanish—plus the basic language, Latin.

Little French Lab—Seated: Pat Duetsch, Carol Stevens, Fern Johnson. Standing: Dean Overman, Christopher Jacobs, Walter Wilkins, Rich Sublett, Tharon Nylander.

Pushball game in a boys gym class.

Gym classes for boys are now being organized according to physical abilities. For the vigorous, new tumbling mats and a trampoline were added to the gymnastics department. Boys and girls combined to give a Physical Education demonstration for the P-TA.

classes had activities for everyone

Have you seen girls in odd positions doing new modern dances? Walk into a rhythms class! You would be interested. Or, in the next gym class you visit, you might find girls running relays between chairs or playing volleyball, baseball, or basketball. You might even see some brave girl shinnying up the newly purchased climbing rope or trying to kick the three-foot cage ball.

When spring came along, senior sports classes turned to out-door games. Arrows flew and golf balls rolled.

The posture contest, sponsored by GAA, did wonders for the girls at school. Posture queen, Pat Altier, was announced at the GAA banquet held in February.

Rhythms class—Donna Virgil, Jane Kavis, Edythe Jackson.

Auto Shop—Mr. Lawrence Britton (J.C.) and Mr. Winterbauer (instructor) watch Charles Holtz, Julius Nabors, and Ray Davis. Auto repairs are for real.

Clerical Practice—Brenda Tucker, Nona McCullar.

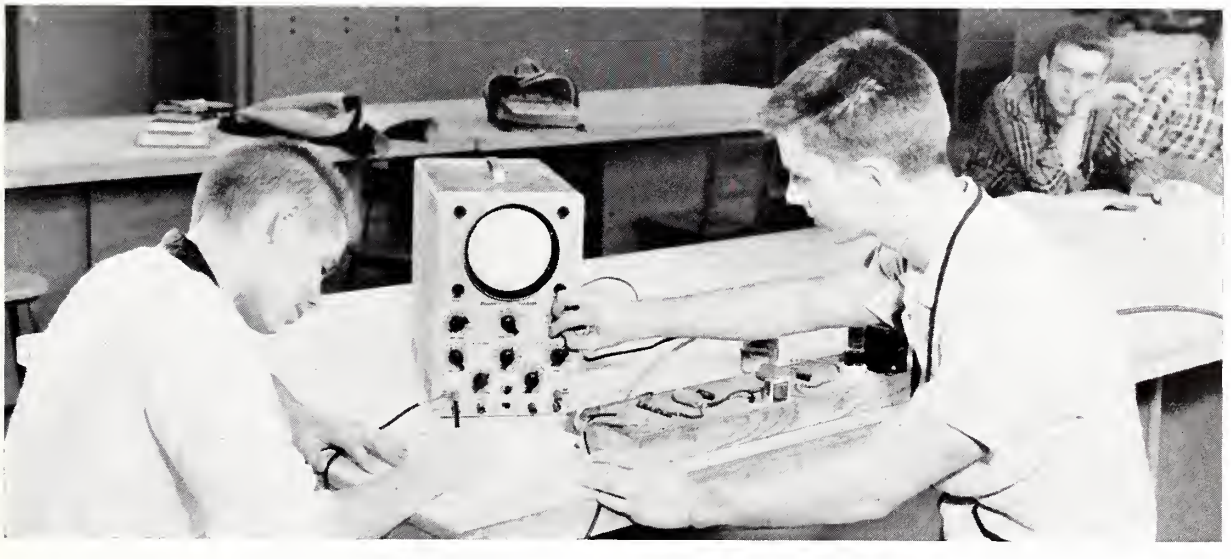
Thornton's Industrial Education Department helped get ready for Thornridge. Boys worked on tool and supply cabinets for new shops, electrical equipment for classes, and completed the distribution panel in Advanced Electric Shops. This work was made possible by new woodworking machines, band saws, drills, electronic testing equipment, and portable power tools. New courses offered were Architectural Drafting, Graphic Arts, and Building Trades Woodworking.

Wherever you went in the Business Department of Thornton, you heard the clicking of typewriters and ditto machines. This year's business students kept busy duplicating tests and booklets for high school classes and material for the public, learned how to use business machines such as dictaphones, calculators, electric and manual typewriters, and adding machines. They listened to tape recorders for shorthand classes, and took official shorthand tests.

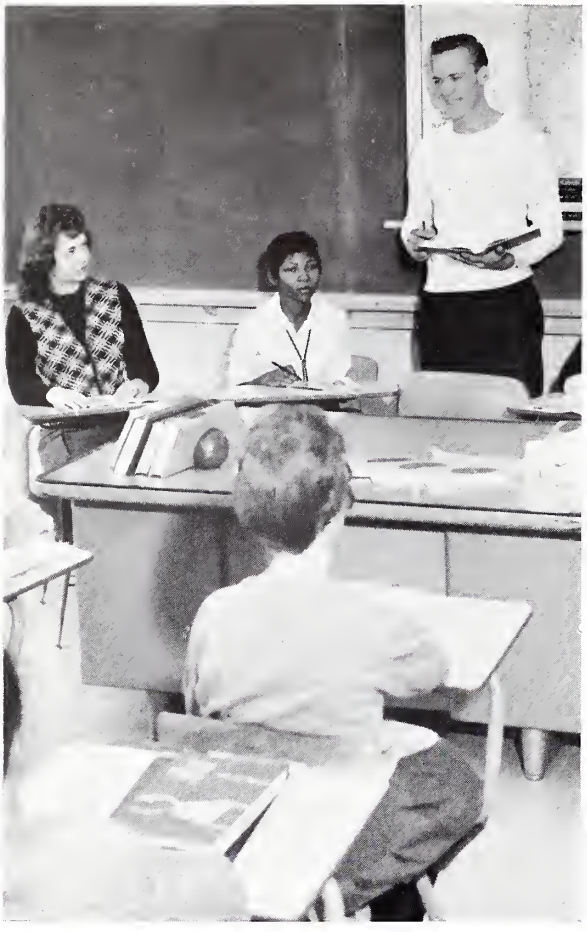
Bookkeeping—Mr. Anderson checks Judy Hutter's work.

Secretaries, technicians in training

Electronics—Doug Liehr and Craig Jeffery use oscilloscope.



Laboratory Science, Social Studies



American History panel—Lynda Aurand, Julia Flynn, Bob Thomsen discuss important topics in Miss Comegys' class.

Chemistry lab—Mary Mathieu performs an experiment.

Social studies classes had some interesting speakers this year. Leaders of local businesses and local industries talked to students about various civic topics. Most prominent was United States Congressman Edward Derwenski, who spoke to all junior and senior social studies classes in the auditorium.

Informative displays in the hallways showcases of the Social Studies Department featured such themes as "Alaska," "Hawaii," "Illinois Today," and "The Civil War."

A new course, Modern Problems, was offered for two semesters, and two classes of psychology were extended to a year course.

"Science projects" was a key phrase in all biology rooms this year. Collections of any biological specimens, reports on any biological topics and experiments on any biological theory were the general type of projects students worked on.

Microscopes helped students find new interests. Intriguing displays urged students to acquire new hobbies, especially collecting. Several new reference books enabled them to do factual work on research. Best science projects were entered in the Illinois Junior Academy of Science exhibit in the spring.

and beginning science combine to give great opportunities

This year even seniors might have been lost in Thornton's library with its new look.

First noticeable change was the rearrangement of the collection in the main library with white letters designating where the books on different subjects might be found.

Philosophy, esthetics, religion, social sciences, sociology, travel, and history books were moved to Room 251 in the new wing, which was the Social Studies library during the second semester.

Miss Bartman, head librarian, was assisted by Mrs. Betty Carhart, Miss Loretta Oetjen, and Mrs. Charlotte Stephens. Mrs. Carhart was in charge of Thornridge library at moving time.

New version of the old T-bench on Thornton's campus.

This year, thanks to the Board of Education, one of Thornton's traditions has returned after an absence of nearly two years. Once more there is a T-bench.

When the new wing was built, the old bench was destroyed. The concrete structure, built in the shape of the letter "T," had been an important feature of the Thornton campus ever since the Class of 1932 had presented it to the school.

New location of the bench is between the new wing and the first of the old buildings, on the south side, near Door One.

Last fall, the bench was too new to make much impression, but this spring it was a popular spot.

Now Thornton is really Thornton with the rebuilt T-bench sitting outside to prove it.

Clean-up in the shops was a must before classes could even begin to operate so push-brooms were handy.

Print shop—Albert Voss and Wayne Swart unpacked and assembled two of the brand new presses.

Industrial Education students at Thornridge spent the second semester in locating machinery, building tool panels, and putting the shops in good working order. The new equipment was impressive. Vocational shop groups returned by bus to Thornton to attend classes.

When Thornridge music classes left Thornton at the second semester, they were not long in reorganizing. They spent their time the second semester much as they had the first—in learning and appreciating music and in singing for all-school and public programs where music was requested.

A first glance at the Home Economics Department at Thornridge led one to believe himself in a dream world with all the shiny new stoves and refrigerators in kitchens of pastel colors. This modern equipment made the work most enjoyable. All courses had been planned to coincide with courses taught at Thornton.

Modern household appliances—Shirley Meyer, Kathy Johnson examine the new washer in the Homemaking kitchen lab.

. . . . but Thornridge was all new

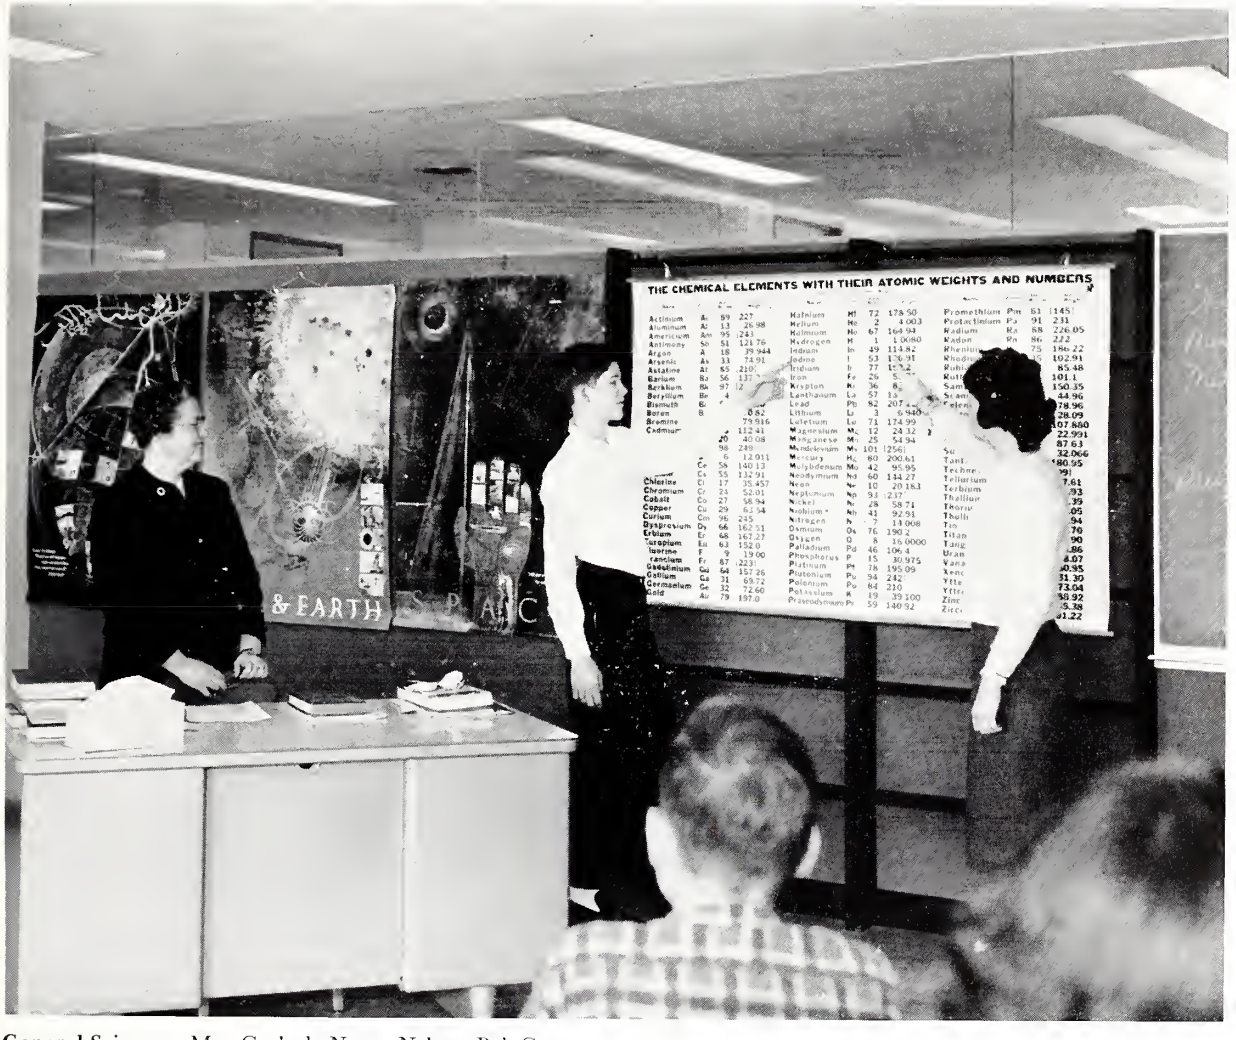
Clothing lab was a bright and cheery place with the newest of sewing machines and storage facilities.

A timed test in typing class with Mr. Clauson in charge.

Typesetting in Graphic Arts shop—Dale Thompson, Glenn Van Der Steeg, Paul Tammonga, Art Swanson.

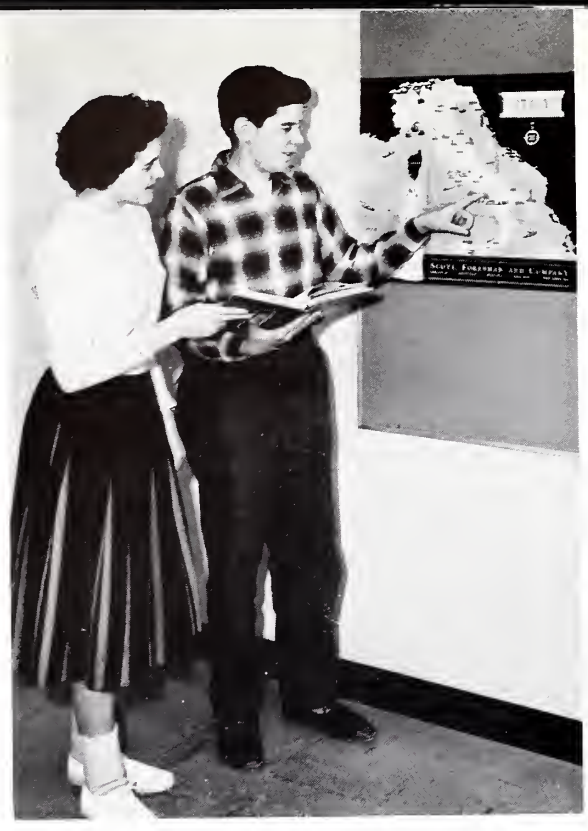
New typewriters were a joy!



General Science—Mrs. Garlock, Nancy Nelson, Bob Gray.

It was a big year for the Business Department at Thornridge this time. The four teachers, under the direction of Miss Edith Sowers, were pleased to see their students using new typewriters, adding machines, mimeograph machines, and comptometers.

Like color? The corridors near the Math Department at Thornridge, painted a bright orange set off by somber charcoal, got rave comments. Mr. C. Thomas Dore, head of the department, was quite busy equipping it with desks, chairs, and mathematical devices. Schedules had to be reorganized to meet the new timetable.



Latin—checking ancient and modern geography—Janice Munson and Bill Seabergh check the map with the book.

Room to expand . . . .

Each of the nine English and the three language teachers was thrilled to have a room for his very own with all new equipment. Language instructors had extra rooms for audio-language work. In the Art classes there was plenty of work and storage space to give everybody enough elbow room.

By the end of the first week, two student services were in operation—student council and the lost and found. Nucleus of the council was the group who had been in the organization at Thornton. New members were added as needed and officers were elected.

In the confusion of moving, students lost more than their way—the Lost and Found helped out.

Art class—Nancy Nelson at the easel.

that is the joy of being at Thornridge

Student Council was functioning in no time—Erana Weiss, newly-elected president, conducts a meeting.

Surprising how soon the Lost and Found was needed! Jim Galloway and Marlene Frachey, from the student council, were put in charge.

Hallways were spacious and colorful.

Library furniture was ready but books still had to be catalogued and shelved. Mrs. Winifred Streightif, assistant, and Mrs. Betty Carhart, librarian had a monumental job.

Because the gym building was not quite complete at moving time, Physical Education classes had to occupy temporary quarters for a time. While they waited, they studied first aid and hygiene. As soon as possible, they were taken on tours of the new facilities.

The two new pools were far from being finished on opening day.

Construction went on as classes met

Although the gym facilities were not ready, everyone knew they would be wonderful when completed. There would be three new gyms—two large ones, 59′ x 71′, and a modified, 42′ x 67′. There were to be both practice and competitive pools. In addition, there were such features as a handball court, a golf shooting range, and a soft ball cage.

Office of the building superintendent was in a rather unobtrusive corner near the front entrance, but plenty of business went on there. Keeping everybody's property straight on moving day, helping out with all the little things that go wrong in a brand new building, and smoothing ruffled feathers was a sizeable job. There were faculty cars to be pulled out of snow drifts, too.

Ulcers would have been easy for the building superintendent, Mr. Walter Glogowski, and his maintenance staff.

Staff, students liked the new quarters

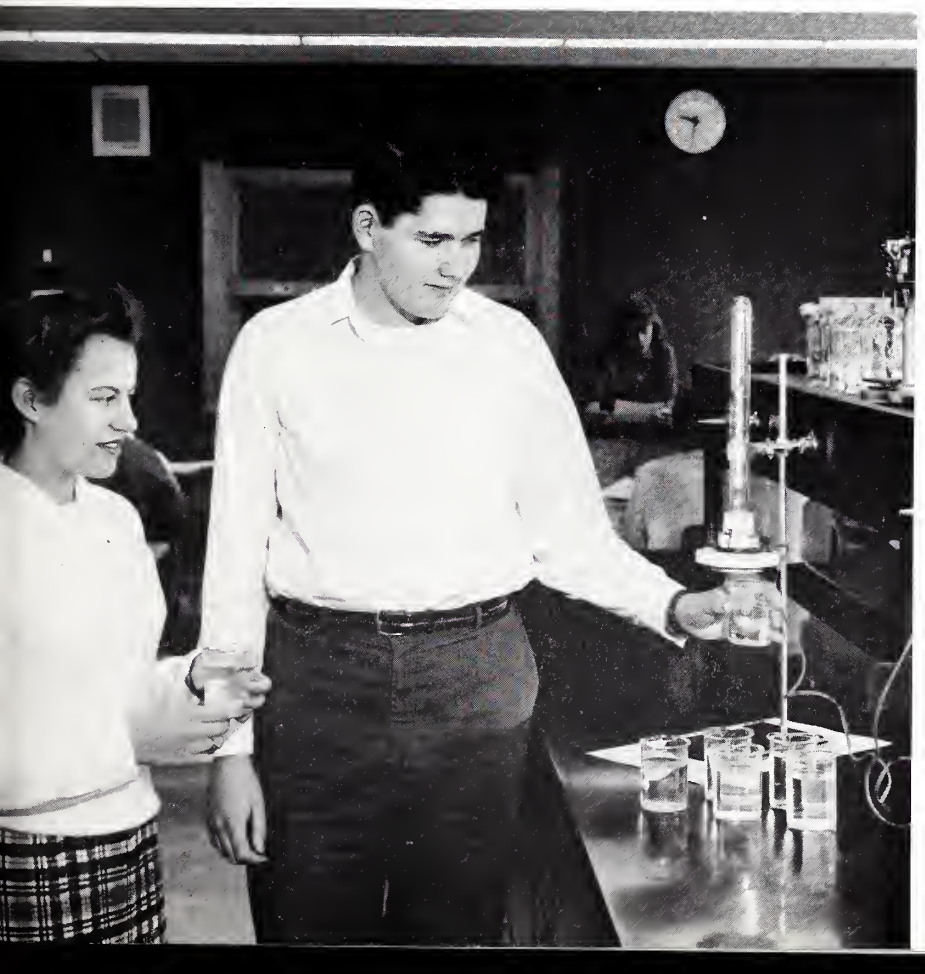
Cafeteria Staff—Mrs. Ruth Beauchamp, Mrs. Josephine Powers, Mrs. Imo Gibbs, Mrs. Eleanor Hoholik, Mrs. Florence Plug, Mrs. Ruth Bogenschneider, Mrs. Mary Burke.

Lunch time at Thornridge meant that the cafeteria staff had been busy for several hours. They enjoyed working in their ultra-modern, stainless steel kitchen. Miss Waterman, director, came from TTHS.

Science classes moving into colorful classrooms at Thornridge found that something had been added that Thornton didn't have. A greenhouse and an animal room, to facilitate the use of plants and animals, are of considerable interest to students and faculty alike.

Camera Club's darkroom is one of the best-equipped in the state. A super-graphic camera and an Omega D-2 enlarger are there.

French lab—Harvey Bradford, seated; LaVerne Johnson, mike in hand; Carol Hall, holding book.



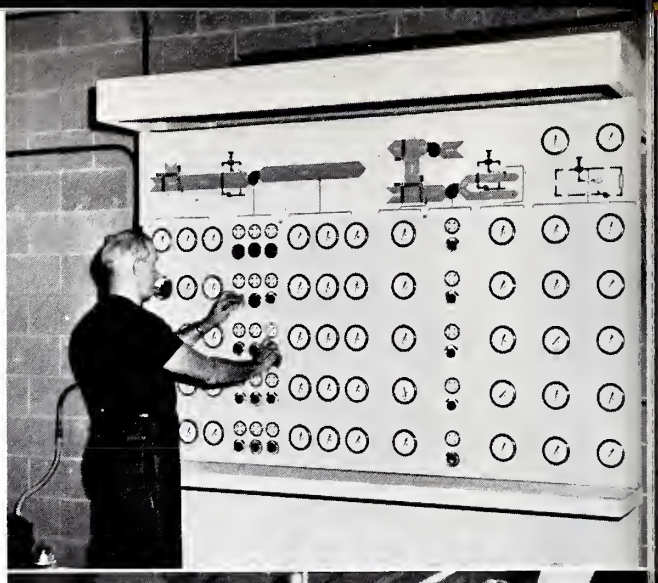
Chem lab experiment on conductivity of solutions—Pam Mumford, Dayton Ward.

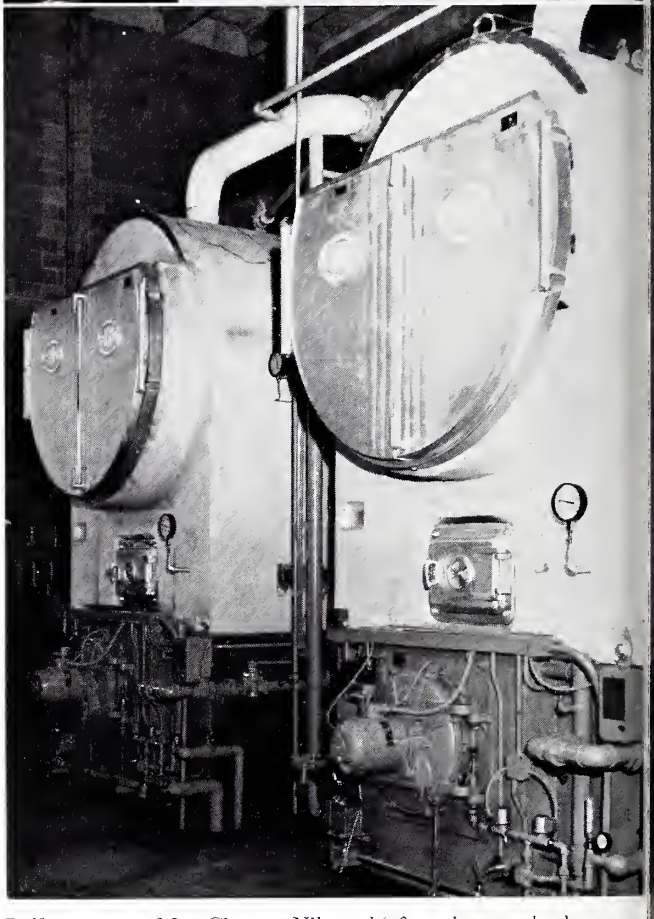
Boilers and books

There's more to a big school than teachers and pupils. Keeping a school in running order takes a variety of service personnel; for instance, that little matter of heat, light, and water.

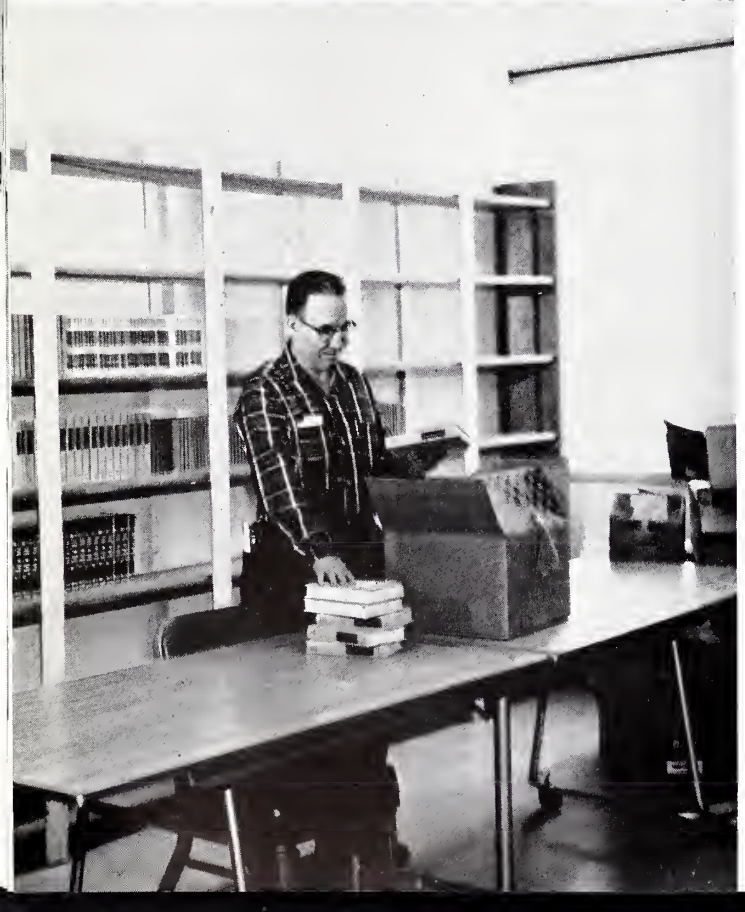
At the east end of the big building which has the gyms and pools is the place where all the heat is generated. Most of the time it comes from a huge boiler heated by oil, but there's an equally big one as auxiliary, using gas.

From the control panel, the chief engineer can tell about the heat or ventilation situation in any room in the several buildings. He has a big responsibility to keep Thornridge livable whether the weather outside is cold or warm.





Boiler room—Mr Chester Niles, chief engineer, checks the control panel to see that everything is going well.



English rental library—Mr. Estes of the maintenance staff helps unpack the books English classes will be needing.

Many TR services

One faculty member may teach sometimes but her big job is looking after student health problems. She is the school nurse. She learns to distinguish between the really sick and the would-be sick (who want to get out of something). She is there for first aid and to help with health programs such as hearing and sight testing as well as tuberculosis prevention.

At the school bookstore are handled all sorts of school supplies, besides rental tickets for books and subscription tickets for newspaper and yearbook. Need Scotch tape, paper clips, theme paper, ball points, or any of the thousand and one items for class work? Go to the bookstore!

School nurse—Mrs Valbert has a bed ready for emergency.

Bookstore—Miss Linda Starks in charge; Jerry Snyder, customer, buying some much needed supplies.

Parties, plays, parades

. . . . together we had . . . .

Fun

When the ringmaster cried, "Come one, come all." girls of all ages (freshmen through seniors) arrived by the hundreds at the Big Top. That circus was held one Friday in September. Much hard work was put into the affair: animals had to be trained, performer's skills practiced, and costumes and scenery constructed. The production took a committee of fourteen and some one hundred performers.

Stand-ups are an annual event. Freshman girls look forward to this big get-acquainted party. Traditional handshake at the beginning gets everyone off to a friendly Thornton feeling.

Thornton welcomes new girls at annual

Freshman Stand-up

Opening ceremonies included crowning of the queen, always the Girls Club president. Then a representative from each class presented to the queen a symbol of her authority: her crown, her cape, her scepter, and her royal pillow.

Zany stunts presented by the four classes followed. Freshman clowns welcomed wierd sophomore side-show characters, followed by junior dancing horses. Topping off the show was the senior parade of fashions and a grand finale with all of the performers.

Freshman girls were called to gather around the queen. As each girl passed the throne, she received a favor from one of the two pages.

Refreshments were served as the party ended —lemonade and cookies under the Big Top.

Mimi Cienkus models for the Stand-Up guests.

Homecoming was biggest fall affair

"What a marvelous time we had at the homecoming dance!" "Have you seen the new King and Queen?" "We sure clobbered Lockport!" "Wow, what pretty decorations!" "I really liked the theme 'Moments to Remember'." These were just a few of the many comments heard after the wonderful homecoming weekend.

This year's homecoming was, without a doubt, Thornton's best. A pep assembly and parade on Friday afternoon started everything off with a bang. That night Thornton won a thrilling football game against Lockport, 7-0. Afterwards there was a Purple X open-house until midnight. Saturday night was the homecoming dance, a dress-up affair and the biggest event of the weekend.

Crowning of the King and Queen by last year's royalty was the climax. A ballet dance in honor of the new sovereigns followed. After the party, couples dashed off for a bite to eat and a chance to talk over the weekend festivities.

Homecoming Court—Seated: Karen Rickoff, Alice Pala, Bob Burdett (king), Terrie Kopac (queen), Paula Powers, Marilou McCann. Standing: Tom Burke, Dave Carr, Brian Baumruk, Tom Hinkey.

Admiring the decorations they helped to create—Peter Anderson, Louise Drazba, Larry Hupe, Dorothy Borys Sandra Anders, Larry Iwema.

Bouffant dresses were popular with the girls (boys too).

Homecoming was fun

"These are my people!"—Pat Altavilla as Charlie Weaver at the homecoming pep assembly make a big hit.

The traditional out-door, all-school pep assembly was great. Even old friend Charlie Weaver was on hand to say a few words of cheer and good luck.

Although the weather wasn't very good, there was no rain or snow during the parade. Decorated cars, floats, and walking delegations competed for awards. The best over-all entry, which won the sweepstakes prize, was the Junior Class float. Best float was the Footlighters' "Footlight Highlights." A three-car unit by the newspaper staff, "A Nose for News," won the prize for the best car entry. Thornton's band was judged the best marching unit. "Swim Suits through the Years," organized by the GAA, was labeled the cutest entry.

Winners of parade entries were announced during the entertainment at the homecoming dance. Winners received ribbons, and the Junior Class was honored by having its name engraved on the plaque.

KIP, Thornton's student council, sponsored the homecoming affairs. In the appraisal which followed, this was voted one of the best at TTHS.

Balloons go up at kick-off time.

Lead car in the parade—Dr. Logsdon, superintendent; Bob Burdett, KIP president; Mr. Robert Hanrahan, sponsor.

Both homecoming games were really thrillers, in spite of the weather. At the kick-off of the varsity game, five hundred white balloons, sold by Future Teachers of America, were released. This spectacle made an exciting start to an otherwise messy game, for the whole contest was played in the rain on a muddy field. Thornton came out the victor, and that's what counted.

PX open house after the game was jam packed. It was good to see alumni and talk to friends.

All-school play,

One of the merriest and maddest stage romps in years, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," set the walls at Thornton clashing on November 11, 12, and 14. Sponsored by the Girls Club, the play proved to be a "rollicking comedy smash."

The title role of Sheridan Whiteside was played by Vic Caroli, a senior from South Holland. The remainder of the cast was thirty-six in number.

Presented in the Thornton auditorium, "The Man Who Came to Dinner," was under the direction of Mr. Robert D. Zechel, Thornton English teacher.

Tom Rottmayer as Beverly Carlton; Robert Gadbois as Dr. Bradley; Erana Weiss, Lorraine Sheldon.

"The Man Who Came to Dinner" makes a hit

Row 1: Bob Turek, as Richard Stanley; Sharon Hampton, June Stanley; Deanna Bolnick, Harriet Stanley; David Adams, Sandy. Row 2: Donna Virgil, Mrs. Stanley; Jerome Badeusz, Mr. Stanley.

Technical director for the play was Mr. Richard W. Pick. On his staff were Becky Jones, stage manager; Joanne Juskevice, construction; Wayne Schuermann, lighting and sound; Pat Duetsch, make-up; Cheryl Parker, properties.

On the production staff were Marilyn Erdely and Carole Francis, general chairmen; Valerie Henrich, program; Pat Duetsch, art; Kathie Zimmerman, tickets; Tom Renner, photography.

Ushers were Pat Duetsch, Marilyn Erdely, Carole Francis, Sandy Hecim, Valerie Henrich, Darlene Kadlec, Kay Lawrence, Alice Pala, Karen Rickhoff, Pat Wedding, Jaan Walther, Kathie Zimmerman.

Gym Jams were fun . . .

One of the favorite extra-curricular activities Thornton students enjoy is the Gym Jam. It is a biannual project sponsored by the KIP and provides a variety of sports.

Volleyball, table tennis, and shuffleboard are offered, besides swimming, chess, and dancing. A dance contest, judged by chaperones, KIP officers, and members of the board and forum, is a main event of the evening. All sports are temporarily stopped for this highlight.

One Gym Jam usually takes place in the spring and the other in early winter.

Over half the population of the school and many guests of students attend these school events.

As the last song is played, fun loving participants go home with a feeling of enjoyment.

Ping-Pong—Mike Vest and Marlene Lusin, playing; Nancy Nelson and Elizabeth Streightif watching.

Christmas was too!

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly" was sung by costumed Madrigal Singers as they strolled in the halls of TTHS on the day preceding Christmas vacation, part of the traditional carolling program.

The Art Department spent many class periods making Christmas ornaments representing designs from stained glass windows. These ornaments, hung in all the windows of Thornton, created a stunning effect as the light came through.

Each organization celebrated Christmas in a different way. Junior Red Cross made Christmas stockings and filled them with toys and goodies, donated by Thornton homerooms. These were sent to several orphanages with the season's wishes from JRC and other Thornton students.

Dress-up dances were always big TTHS social events

Turnabout weekend was eagerly awaited by the girls at Thornton. They had their big chance to ask their favorite fellas to the annual Girls Club Dance, February 6. Girls walked boys to their classes, carried their books, and opened doors for them.

A grand march heralded the dance at 8:30 p.m. A tall slender mannequin garbed in a traditional mardi gras costume stood in the center of the floor while vari-colored balloons were suspended from the ceiling. Jan Kook and his orchestra played for this special event.

The male population of school looked forward to this big affair just as much as the girls did.

"Misty" was the theme of this year's KIP Pre-Spring dance, held in the gymnasium, March 12. This party took the place of the annual Mid-Winter dance.

Music by Tony Paige and his orchestra greeted dancers to a misty world of sheer enchantment. About three hundred fifty couples attended this gala affair.

Large trees covered in a haze of angel hair added to the misty atmosphere.

Chaperons included Miss Diane DuBois, Mr. Charles Lawrence, Mrs. Beverly Ovist, Miss Eleanor Szymanski, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wessel.

Thornton's annual Father-Son Stag came on January 30. The affair was sponsored by the Boys Club and offered the fellas and dads an evening of enjoyment together. Open-house in the Industrial Arts Building gave guests an opportunity to visit all the shops.

Following the tours, sons and dads moved to the auditorium to hear "Miracles of the Mind," a speech by Dr. Harlan Tarbell. Dr. Tarbell, noted psychologist and mental scientist, discussed mental telepathy and extra-sensory perception. After the talk there were refreshments in the cafeteria.

Twelve tense, excited girls spending a busy week of social activity were characteristic of the 1959 May Queen Court. Girls opened their week by being announced at an assembly, continued their social activity by being honored at a breakfast, and climaxed their week at the Mother-Daughter Banquet on May 9 with the coronation of the May Queen. Afterwards there was a reception in the Girls Club Room.

Girls who exhibit the qualities of a true friend were nominated by Junior girls; final elections for Queen and Maid-of-honor were made by all Thornton girls.

"Queen of My Heart" was the theme of the annual Girls Club Mother-Daughter Banquet on May 9, 1959. After a dinner, speeches, and community singing in the cafeteria, mothers and daughters proceeded to the auditorium. A style show and the presentation of the May Queen concluded the party.

On December 12, 1959, over 325 Thornton girls asked their best fellows—their fathers—to an evening of pleasure and relaxation at the annual Girls Club Dad-Daughter dinner. Theme of the affair was "Dear Ol' Dad." Following the traditional Grace, the daughters served their dads a dinner prepared by the cafeteria staff.

After hostesses and guests harmonized in some community singing, they adjourned to the auditorium for speeches by representatives from the club, the faculty, and the fathers. Entertainment of singing and dancing was MC'd by Erana and Mr. Weiss.

The annual candle-lighting ceremony was conducted by the major officers and class representatives, and the pledge of Loyalty was taken or renewed by members.

Following an address by the Rev. Mr. C. T. Garriott on "Scholarship and Loyalty," girls who had earned one semester or more of "A" were given scholarship pins.

Seniors produce "Androcles"

Thornton's smash hit, in April, was the senior class play, Androcles and the Lion, by George Bernard Shaw. Mr. Richard Pick was the coach and Mr. Glenn Schuermann, the technical director.

In the title roles were Ed Neumann as Androcles and Jon Pavelin as the lion, Tommy.

Others in the large cast were Norlaine Johnson, Paula Powers, Dave Cordes, Allan Johnson, Steve Benos, Vic Caroli, Bob Gadbois, Tom Rottmayer, Ken McConnaughay, Richard Dennis, Larry McGill, Bob Webster, Harold Mitchell, Martha Dillner, Bill Elliott, Janet Wojcik, Diane Reeder, Doreen Oldaker, Janet Kipley, Beverly Broome, Gary Pruitt, Bob Burdett, John Budzik, Del Simmons, Rich Lesnick, Karen Rickhoff, Pat Nolan, Joyce Pinger, Tom Swiderski, and Fred Kolodziej.

"A Circus" was the 1960 theme of the eighth annual Thornton Variety Show. An all-school talent production, it was presented on March 26, in the gym, to a packed house.

All students, faculty, and former students were eligible for the twenty acts, each approximately five minutes long. Acts included combos, tap, ballet, and modern dance routines, tumbling acts, songs from the musical comedy Carousel, a faculty surprise act, singers, and baton twirlers.

Show chairmen were Steve Benos, Carole Jackson, Roger Hirschman, Jim Borris, Alvinetta Roberson, Pat Masten, Valerie Ludewig, Deanna Bolnick, and Mary Beth Elmos.

Proceeds provided equipment for all-school student use, especially in dramatics.

PX manages dances

Purple X Committee, organized to provide recreation after home football and basketball games, continued to serve Thorntonites in general and to train its members in leadership.

Income from PX dances brought the Purdue Men's Glee Club to an assembly. It gave financial aid to school clubs, to the community fund, and to the Faculty Association scholarship fund. It helped on expenses for KIP buses to away games.

PX members, eighty-five in number, met once a month. The twelve open houses had an average attendance of 1,000. Members also handled the sale of variety show tickets.

At the banquet in May new members were initiated and officers installed.

Boys Club, Hall Guards help school

Trying to assist every boy to get the most profit and pleasure from his high school life is the purpose of the Boys Club with its 2,000 members. Club activities built school spirit and rendered services. Projects included the Father-Son stag and the Mother-Son banquet. Members sold Christmas trees to earn money. Members and their sponsor provided an effective advisory service for boys who needed it. Hall Guards and Campus Patrol again supervised the school and grounds, helped maintain order, assisted visitors, and promoted school safety. Bus Guards rode all of the school buses.

Girls Club

If Thornton's Girls Club could be described in a word, surely it would be "activity." In order to enrich the lives of its 2100 members, the club sponsored an extensive variety of social, welfare, money-making, and guidance activities which gave every girl a chance to contribute her talents to the club.

Major officers met daily during second period, Board every Tuesday second period, and Council and Division Chairmen as called.

Chairmen—Row 1: Wendy Muldowney, Float; Marsha Wigg, Loyalty Day; Paula Powers, Welfare; Darla Edwards, Welfare; Josephine DeRossi, Float; Gail Allen, Foreign Student. Row 2: Judy Hoffman, Sui-Ku-Li; Linda Dybas, Loyalty Day; Sharon Sheahan, CARE; Barbara Kletecka, Home for Incurables.

What does the Girls Club do? It provides opportunities for Thornton Girls to practice organization and cooperation through approximately ninety functional committees that meet before, during, and following school.

Social affairs of the club include the Freshman Stand-Up to welcome freshman girls in September; two banquets, one for dads and one for mothers; teas for faculty, mothers, and friends; and a dress-up, turn-about dance in February. Service committees like Big Sisters and Activity Point Commission helped underclassmen take interest in Thornton and in themselves.

Girls Club engages in welfare activities for Oak Forest patients, CARE, Kentucky Schools, and the Save-the-Children Clothing Federation. This year the club sponsored a Philippine exchange student and was a foster parent to an orphan in Formosa.

"How-to-Act" assemblies preceding social events and Scholarship and Loyalty assemblies were given throughout the year. Money making projects were also a part of the Club activities.

Making portrait appointments for seniors, selling advertisements to help finance the book, sorting and typing identification slips, writing copy, selling junior pictures, and supervising picture-taking were some of the activities for the 1960 yearbook staff. This year the Thorntonite has 328 pages and is the biggest yet published at TTHS. It is unique in that it covers two schools, Thornton and Thornridge. To meet deadlines, the staff worked during free periods and after school as well as in the daily class period.

When the rush of distribution was over, all the work and worry seemed worthwhile.

During November, five members of the staff attended the Illinois State High School Press Association meetings at the University of Illinois to hear special lectures and to take part in group discussions.

A field trip to Thornridge, prior to its opening in February, gave staff members material for copy to be written about the new school.

Sweat, toil, deadlines, last-minute changes—all make a good newspaper. The Thorntonite newspaper staff worked hard this year to present the school with twenty-seven four-page editions, two six-page and one eight-page edition. At Christmas there was a tri-colored, eight-page paper and even a second front page.

Operating the popcorn concession at home basketball games was a staff money-making project.

Two additional typewriters eased the typing situation.

Latin

Since Thornton had such a crowded schedule this past year Latin Club meetings were held once each month during the regular class periods. Programs consisted of reports on Roman times and mythology or vocabulary games and quiz programs covering Latin facts. Models of the Roman aqueduct and the Colosseum gave atmosphere to the everyday procedure of classes. At Christmas, carols were sung in Latin.

Members of the Latin III and IV Club wrote and produced a radio program based on Roman times.

Olympics was the theme used for the Latin Club float in the Homecoming parade. Roman slaves pulled the float through the streets.

German

TTHS language studcnts looked forward to the day when after-school club meetings would again fit into the Thornton schedule. Until that time, all activities had to be held within the classes, and council representatives were the only ones who could hold regular meetings.

German Council sponsored programs throughout the year. Outstanding were German classical music reports, Christmas skits, and readings.

Thirty-five German students caroled at homes of faculty and friends in Harvey on Christmas Eve.

German classcs now have a new Wollensach—Revere tape recorder to aid them with their skits.

Games and parties were conducted in the classes on special holidays.

A grand prize of a pair of Lederhosen was awarded to the student who ranked highest in outside reading.

French

Designing covers and gathering material for a scrapbook is no easy chore. It takes imagination. Students in French I classes did this very thing for their annual project. French II classes made original maps of France with its bordering countries from such unusual materials as raisins and parsley besides the more conventional paint and clay. French Council awarded prizes in May for these projects.

A tape recorder and individual listening devices were added to the department to encourage fluency in French conversation. New books using conversational method of learning were tried out this year.

Spanish

Fiestas, pinatas, musica, and cantos all played an important part in Spanish classes at Thornton. These activities accompanied regular lessons. All the fun and fancy were directed by the Spanish council made up of representatives from each class.

Games and programs were planned to celebrate such holidays as the days of All Saints, Three Kings, and Christmas, which are observed by Spanish-speaking peoples. During the Christmas holidays students sang carols in Spanish.

In the spring some of the Spanish III and IV students went to see a Spanish movie in Chicago.

Films with Spanish dialogue and commentary were used during the second semester. A new tape recorder and reading books were added to the department for further fluency in the language.

Library Assistants experience meeting the public, develop self-confidence, and learn responsibility. Although they met infrequently, they were able to complete such projects as the Homecoming float. They eliminated much coming and going of library-bound students by collecting interviews in the library and delivering them to study-hall teachers.

Key Club, sponsored by Kiwanis Club, is an active service organization. Their projects included helping the March of Dimes by participating in the Chicagoland Record Fair and selling candy to finance a scholarship for a Thornton boy. Key Club is especially fortunate to have one of its members—Dave Cordes—on International Board.

Medical Arts Club met twice a month to promote interest in laboratory techniques, medicine, nursing, and pharmacy. In addition to field trips to hospitals, helping with the PTA carnival, and sending Easter favors to two hospitals, the club conducted an amusing initiation for their new members with the whole school as an audience.

Social Studies Assistants typed letters, tests, and messages, answered the telephone, operated mimeograph equipment, assembled and stapled tests, and did any odd jobs for which teachers needed their help. Each volunteer worked one period a day and gained valuable experience for a future career in the business world.

Chemistry Club, one of Thornton's new organizations this year, reflects current national interest in scientific thinking and experimentation. Purpose of the club is to stimulate interest in chemistry and its allied fields. The club gives its members more opportunity for research than is possible in routine classroom and laboratory procedure. The thirty members, under the sponsorship of Mr. Lercher, are exploring possibilities of chemistry as a career. Meetings take place after school on the first and third Tuesday of each month. A field trip to Sinclair Research Laboratories was the big feature of the year. Others are planned.

Debate and Secretarial Work, to others

Debate Club, sponsored by Mr. Zechel, numbered twenty-four members. Besides regular meetings, there were trips to the Lyons Invitational at LaGrange, U. of I. Invitational at Navy Pier, Northwestern U. Clinic, and National Forensics Congress in Aurora. At Thornton, members produced a hi-fi recording of the year's events—"A Yearbook in Sound." Members lead social studies and history classes in discussion of contemporary problems and also made scholarship plans for Northwestern's summer session in Speech.

Production problems, welfare work kept

Footlighters Club, sponsored by Miss Marian Roth and Miss Beverly Howe, promoted an active interest in dramatics. Board met once every two weeks, alternating with the general meeting.

At the 1960 Illinois Contest in speech in February, the club presented a one-act play. Fifteen members and two sponsors attended.

This year a Thespian Society, affiliated with the national organization, was formed. Membership was determined by points earned. Ten points, equivalent to one hundred hours of work in speech and dramatics activities, was a requisite.

In this year's homecoming parade the Footlighter float, "Footlight Highlights," won first place.

Play Chairmen—Carole Francis, Marilyn Erdely.

Thornton's Junior Red Cross, sponsored by Mr. Harold Fuller, is a group of students interested in helping children and disabled people by means of the American Junior Red Cross.

The council met daily to discuss projects completed monthly. This year JRC sent Christmas stockings to children, visited a children's home, and sent a Halloween party-in-a-box to the Great Lakes Naval Hospital.

Every year a student from the council is sent to the JRC training center in the summer to learn more about the organization.

Supplies sold here

TTHS Bookstore, through student help, supplied textbooks and accessories to Thorntonites. Clerks worked before and after school, during homeroom, and in their free periods, yet every one of them made good grades. Bookstore experience, such as filing and checking registers, besides selling supplies, was excellent training for later jobs.

Audio-Visual Center provides instructional materials and equipment when and where teachers want them for class usage. Students were trained in operating and caring for projection devices. Besides struggling with a crowded school situation, experienced members trained a new squad of audio-visualists for work at Thornridge.

FHA stressed future

Future Homemakers of America completed several projects this year. They made favors for the South Holland Convalescent Home, constructed layettes for the Red Cross, and gave a Valentine party for the mothers, a splash party, and a pot-luck supper. To finance the projects, members sold stationery embossed with the Thornton crest.

Diversified Occupations gave high school juniors and seniors a chance to receive vocational training from part-time jobs. Students alternated on a half-day basis between study in school and training on the job as employees. By getting into this program, students were able to earn learners' wages as well as sufficient school credit.

Nurses, Biologists

Nurses Aides are students who volunteer to help the nurses during one of their free periods. This year there were seven girls who performed duties such as running errands, keeping the outer office neat, signing in all student patients, guiding ill classmates to beds, regulating the flow of patients to the nurse, supplying needles and thread for ripped clothing, doing clerical work, and keeping the waiting line quiet during the hearing tests for underclassmen.

This year all of the aides happened to be girls who went to Thornridge at the semester, thus leaving Thornton in a very unhealthy situation. They received experience especially valuable in nursing careers and also learned many things which will help them to become good mothers and homemakers.

YFC is an enthusiastic organization

Although the newly organized Youth for Christ club will not celebrate its own first birthday on the Thornton campus until next fall, this active group was successful in sponsoring the organization of a similar club at Thornridge this spring.

Other projects included choosing at random the names of more than a thousand fellow students to whom Christmas cards were mailed, and entertaining patients at Oak Forest Hospital with carols.

Open to students of any denomination, the club now has more than fifty members. Meetings are held each Monday afternoon. Designed for those people who want to put a spiritual note into their school activities, each member is encouraged to find a deeper meaning in life through religion. YFC is non-denominational and Bible centered.

need student help

Biology Assistants are the nine girls who devote one hour of their time each day to type, duplicate, take letters, assemble and staple tests, answer the phone, deliver messages, and do just about anything else a secretary does. Because of these girls, biology teachers devote more of their time to instruction and forget the routine clerical tasks which are so time-consuming.

Class Principals' Assistants are the student clerical help for class counselors. Reliability, honesty, and maturity of judgment are qualities needed. They are entrusted with such duties as calling homes of absentees, making out tardy passes, conducting students sent for by the class principal, and counting votes in class elections. All are volunteers working one period a day.

FTA needs recruits

Future Teachers of America is seriously trying to recruit candidates for teacher training. Boys, especially, are needed. Club members made field trips to ISNU for College Day and to Beloit College, Northern Illinois and Valparaiso universities. They were guests at a TTHS faculty tea.

Biology Club aims to expand members' knowledge in the field of biology. The group met twice a month in the evenings. Every member had a project; all were entered in the Science Fair in the spring. A Homecoming float, a Christmas party, and a year-end picnic were other activities.

Camera fans active

Camera Club is devoted to promoting an interest in photography and in performing a service for the school.

Throughout the year, members have taken all Thorntonite newspaper pictures for Thornton and Thornridge, all dance pictures, and were willing to take pictures for any interested school organization.

Carelessness of students is very easily recognized by a quick inventory of the Lost and Found Department.

Books, pens, glasses, gloves, scarfs, purses, and lunches are some of the commonplace articles found here. Many articles of value are never claimed and are eventually given away.

The club offered classes in radio code and theory to help students earn ham licenses. Logical result was the assembling of a ham station and participation in the national Ham Field Day activities. The club met every first and third Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

It's the Hoofers! This year these girls, under the direction of Mr. Norman Lahti, entertained at the Homecoming Dance, Variety Show, and Girls Club Dance. Occasionally they performed during half-time shows at basketball games. Hoofers, who are interested in perfecting their modern dance techniques, attend professional school and practice as a group once a week.

Thornridge Band and Orchestra, taught separately from the band and orchestra of Thornton during the first semester, kept on their musical way as they moved into the new school. Practices continued, but programs were limited because most of the time was spent in organizing and in preparing for future programs. During the first semester the band helped school spirit by playing for part of the home games, sharing with the Thornton band.

Purpose of band and orchestra is to help students learn music and to appreciate it by playing musical instruments. Most students are encouraged to take private lessons besides the class lessons every day. Students who do not have instruments of their own may rent them for the year at a nominal fee.

own groups

A new chorus and a new glee club were started in September for students who would attend Thornridge at the second semester. They were under the direction of Mr. Richard Anoe. Although they practiced separately, they joined Thornton for the Christmas concert.

When these two classes moved to the new school, they hoped to move into classrooms filled with brand new equipment, such as pianos, hi-fi's, record players, and records. However, since their rooms were in the auditorium building and that one was not completed, they had to use temporary quarters for a long time.

Fall season is one of the most spectacular and interesting for the Varsity Band. During football games, there were opening parades and some well-executed maneuvers at half-time.

For basketball, the organization was divided into three or four instrumentally well-balanced pep bands of thirty to forty pieces, which rotated, playing for all league games. There were also the community activities like Veterans Day and Memorial Day.

The annual spring concert, solo and ensembles contests, music festival, Honors Day, Flag Day, and Commencement were some of the special school performances of the Thornton Varsity Band.

Orchestra enlarged

Students who have a desire to learn to play percussion, brass, or woodwind instruments for the orchestra or band start their formal training in a beginning wind instrument class. At the end of a year's study, the student should be ready for the varsity band or beginning orchestra. Miss Chambers directs the orchestra, Mr. Hopkins the band.

Students earn a "T" for their sweaters when they meet certain requirements and receive gold pins for four years' membership in orchestra. The organization was awarded a blue ribbon for their float in the Homecoming parade last fall. They performed at the annual spring concert and also at the Christmas concert.

Last spring (1959), nearly 110 members of the band and orchestra went on tour to Colorado. They boarded the Denver Zephyr in Chicago, arrived in Denver the next morning, and took buses to Boulder. There they presented a concert on the terrace of the Union Building at the University of Colorado. Afterwards there was a tour through Red Rock Canyon and parts of Rocky Mountain National Park. Expeditions of this kind are planned for once in every four years. Money earned through tag and candy sales helps on finances for the trip.

Thornton's own dance band, the Thorntoneers, has become a hit with students at the PXs because of the dance music they provide. Ron Swenson was leader and Dennie Sparger, business manager.

These thirteen talented players formed their own combos, like The Moderns, The Shantells, The Manhattans, and The Show-Boat Seven. They did professional work outside of school.

Cadet Band members train for the Varsity and Concert bands. They learn the techniques of their instruments so they can be ready to play with the more advanced groups.

School performances are mainly in basketball season but also at Spring Band Concert and in the Music Festival. With their director, Mr. Hopkins, they appeared at a Community Forum program.

Girls had a choice of five choral groups

A large part of choral membership was composed of girls alone, for whom Miss Thompson was the director. In the girls glee clubs, freshman and inexperienced voices were trained for the more advanced groups like Girls Choir and mixed choruses.

Outstanding voices from Girls Choir were selected for a special group known as the Keydets, who are a tradition at Thornton, just as the Madrigal Singers are. Although it was impracticable for larger groups to participate in most outside programs, the choir did sing at one church affair. Keydets are frequently called upon to appear at events both in the school and in the community.

Mixed choruses numbered four

Mixed Chorus is the most advanced group for mixed choral singing. Freshman-Sophomore Mixed Choir, with the Junior and Senior mixed choirs, participated in the programs presented at Christmas and in the spring. Junior and Senior choirs appeared in a special spectacular number for "Carousel," the 1960 variety show. Senior Choir had its annual exchange program at Rich Township High.

Madrigal Singers, a mixed ensemble for advanced students, sang in the yearly Christmas program, caroled in the halls at Christmas, and took part in several outside programs, appearing in Old English costumes. Mr. Armbruster directed all mixed groups.

A new girls ensemble, selected from Mixed Choir, made their debut this year. They were the Klefs, directed by Miss Thompson.

Purplettes were ready to perform.

Spectator attention was easily diverted.

Thornton had a cold, sloppy, but a very prosperous 1959 football season as the boys came out of battle with two championships and a second place berth in South Suburban League competition. These honors were possible by a great exhibition of team effort and school spirit.

Three well-timed pep assemblies gave Thornton's three football teams all of the spirit they needed to defeat the two opponents they usually had to confront—rival teams and the weather.

What more could a person ask! Girls Club refreshment crew took charge of selling hot chocolate, hot dogs, popcorn, and many other edibles to keep Thornton spectators cheerful.

After every home game, Thornton students took refuge in the big gym for the Purple X open house which was always a big affair, weather or not.

Pep meetings meant early dismissal from classes.

In spite of mud and snow, Wildcats score four touchdowns to muddle Kankakee, 25-0, in last game of the season.

Football season was a prosperous one

Starting the 1959 football season off on the right track by defeating their first three opponents—Waukegan, 13-7, Elgin, 19-13, and Fractional North, 25-12, the Thornton Wildcats extended their victory string to ten games over a period of two seasons. Traveling to Muskegon Heights, Michigan, Coach Tiny Huddlestun's team tasted defeat as Muskegon's Panthers edged the Cats, 9-6.

Showing that they still had the Thornton spirit, the Wildcats came back to dim scrappy Argo's title hopes with a sound 21-6 victory. The following week Thornton was dealt a 6-0 defeat by the troublesome Blue Island Cardinals.

Thornton's Claude Kracik scores Thornton's final touchdown of the season against Kankakee, with seconds to play.

Thornton defender, John Buck, lunges for a Lockport runner in Thornton's muddy homecoming battle, a 7-0 triumph.

Brian Baumruk (23) has a rough time getting away from Kankakee defenders. Wayne Miller (24) makes a fine block on 49 to spring Baumruk loose. Thornton won, 25-0.

Tom Macander throws a key block as Baumruk returns the KKK opener. Other Thornton players are Jerry Gruszczyk, Ab Randle El, John Klein, Wayne Miller, and Dwight Lewis.

Football Games

Playing in mud and snow most of the season, the scrappy Wildcats made their muddy homecoming a success as they shut out the Lockport Porters, 7-0.

Traveling to Chicago Heights to be entertained by their arch-rivals, the Bloom Trojans, Thornton not only had to defeat the Trojans, but their constant foe also—the weather. Wildcats accomplished this feat as they outslipped Bloom and gained a 21-7 victory over the Trojans. This Wildcat victory enabled Thornton to stay close behind Blue Island in the race for the South Suburban league championship.

Highlighting Thornton's rout of Bloom this season was Brian Baumruk's ninety-nine yard punt return which came in the first quarter, giving the team all the enthusiasm they needed to defeat Bloom.

Despite playing in the worst weather conditions of the season, Thornton proved to be too much for the Kankakee Kays as the Cats won, 25-0. This victory gave them a 7-2 overall record and a 4-1 league record, making them co-champions with Blue Island.

1959 Football

Six Thornton players made the All-South Suburban League football squad. Those players were backfield stars Joe Hawkins and Brian Baumruk, and linemen Alan Johnson, Alan Lindsay, Wilfred Henry, and Abidula Randle El. Halfback Wayne Miller and quarterback Bob Caress received honorable mention. In addition to being an all-conference and all-Chicago area choice, Johnson received all-state recommendation.

1959 varsity football letter winners voted halfback Brian Baumruk most valuable player and elected fullback Joe Hawkins honorary captain.

Thornton's JV football team finished the 1959 season with an even record of one win and one loss. After beating Kankakee, 12-0, the team lost to Argo, 13-6. This game ended a string of seven victories that Thornton JV teams had racked up over a period of three seasons behind the tutoring of coaches Frank Bauman and Bill Purden.

In their last eight games, Thornton JV teams have scored 129 points while holding their opponents to a meager 26. Pacing this year's team, were Wayne Miller, Vince Coppens, Nick Altavilla, and Steve Withey in the backfield. Two outstanding linemen were Terry Johnson and Nick Nardi.

Sophomore Season

Thornton's Frosh-Soph football team finished the 1959 season with a 5-3 overall record. After losing their first two games of the campaign to Waukegan, 19-13, and Elgin, 15-6, the Wildkits, under the expert guidance of coaches Jack Robinson and Mel DeGraff, came back to win five of their six conference games. They finished second in the league behind Bloom, who defeated them, 20-0.

Outstanding players for the Frosh-Soph team were backfield stars John McKibben, Ted Flournoy, Joe Warnell, and Glenn Becker, and linemen Jeff Parham, Leroy Jackson, Bruce Clark, and Glenn Weaver. The latter moved up to the Varsity team after playing in four Frosh-Soph games. Top scorers on the team were McKibben and Flournoy, combining to score sixteen TD's.

Freshman Season

After dropping their first game of the season to Joliet, 6-0, in an exhibition tilt, the freshman football squad rebounded to win five straight games from Bloom, Lockport, Argo, Blue Island, and Kankakee in compiling a 5-1 record for the 1959 season. Freshman coaches, Ted Czech and Bob Blaha, thought this team the best since 1953, when the freshman boys built up a 6-0 record.

Boys mainly responsible for the great 1959 team were Jim Wilkerson, Charles Joliff, Harold Boomsma, Dave Colton, Ron Pacyga, and Bill Doster. Top scorers for the frosh squad were Joliff and Wilkerson.

Frosh team enthusiasm was shown when they defeated Argo and Blue Island with identical scores of 30-7. On the season the Frosh totalled 111 points while limiting their opponents to 26.

Ushers keep order

There's more to a football season than meets the eye out on the playing field. Somebody has to seat the crowds, keep them "down in front," and generally maintain order. That's where the game ushers come in.

Color Guard, Twirlers, and Purplelettes take an important part in half-time ceremonies.

Hardest working are the cheerleaders, for their job means daily practice to keep in trim plus sustained effort to keep the crowds enthusiastic at all the games.

Pep Club organizes cheering sections and acts as guardian of school spirit. Through the Lettermen's Club, boys on all the squads are represented. A banquet in May climaxes their year.

Lettermen's Club—Dwight Lewis, 2nd vice-president; Jerry Gruszczyk, 1st vice-president; Allan Johnson, secretary; Wayne Miller, president; Bob Caress, treasurer; Brian Baumruk, sergeant-at-arms.

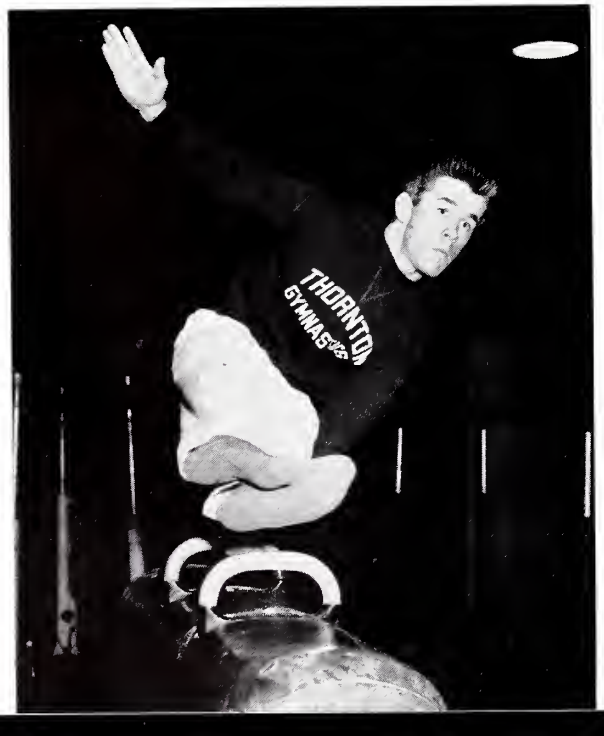
Gymnastics takes on new importance

Keith Anderson—carry-in on the side horse.



Thornton's two-year-old gymnastics team, with the help of eight returning varsity letter winners, compiled a fine record of 7-5. Behind the careful tutoring of Dick Foerch, the varsity gymnasts won their first two dual meets from Rich, 73-30, and Hinsdale, 70-62.

Varsity participated in the Northern Invitational Gymnastics Meet, placing eleventh with the points Gerald Kaminski scored in tumbling. In the state tournament the Wildcats didn't place.

Leading the gymnasts in scoring was Gerald Kaminski, followed by Wayne Bishop and Keith Anderson. Seven lettermen will return next year.

Coach Foerch's sophomore squad won 4 games and lost 5 for the 1959-60 campaign. They were paced by Glenn Becker, Curt Hahn, Earl Lintner, Fred Pastor, and Johnny Newberg. In the Frosh meet the Gymnasts placed fourteenth.

Basketball

Thornton's 1959-60 basketball teams completed a satisfactory season although it was not quite so good as in previous years.

Lacking an experienced player most of the season because of the loss of Bob Caress, only varsity letter winner of last year, the varsity squad finished the season with a dismal 14-13 record.

Playing most of the games for the varsity squad were Rich Simac, Renault Banks (who was injured late in the season), Al Dehnert, Len Dabon, and two outstanding sophomores—John McKibben and Leon Clark.

Thornton's junior varsity squad came up with an excellent 9-2 record, splitting two games with Bloom and losing to West Rockford. Most of the players showed great potential for a stronger varsity squad next year.

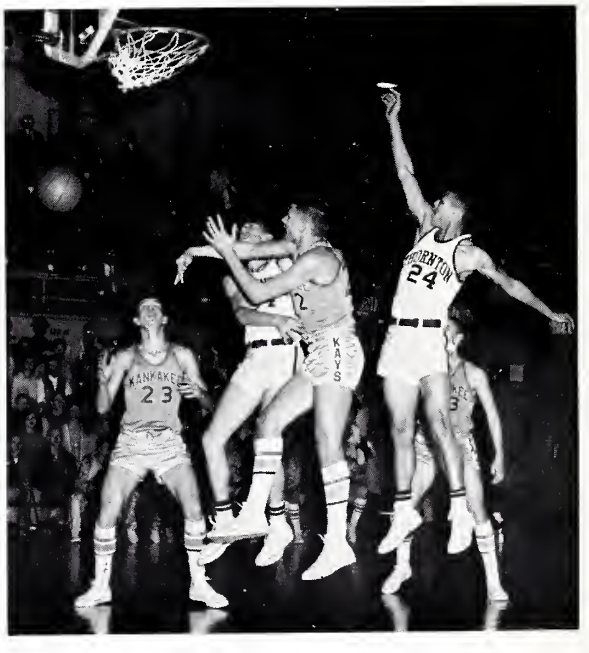
Sophomore squad wound up another successful season with a 12-5 record and a second place in the South Suburban League.

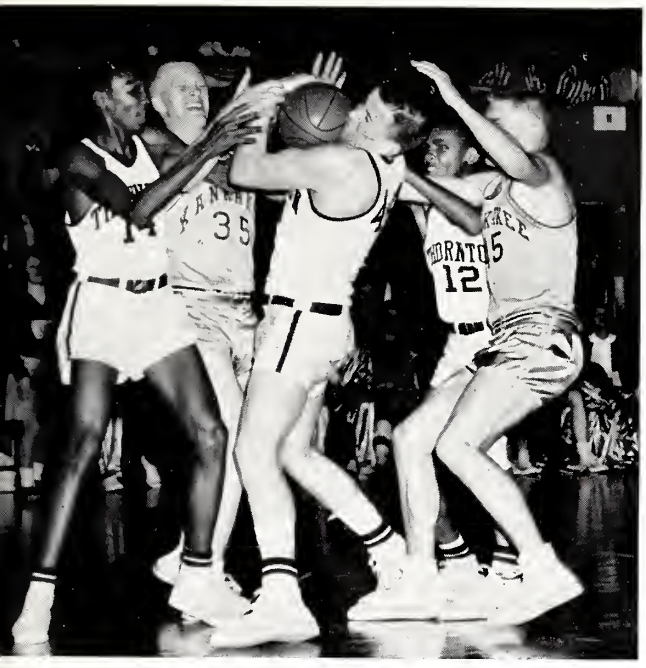
Thornton's frosh squad completed their season with a 7-4 record. The Kits bowed out with a 54-49 win over Bloom.

Len Dabon looks for a teammate in the opening as he dribbles against a Sandburg defender in tournament play.

Bob Caress drives past Fractional defenders towards basket in Thornton's 109-48 rout over the T-F Meteors.

Two more points for Thornton as Renault Banks puts in a swisher over an opponent's head in the Kankakee game.





Bruce Clark gets help from Reuben Poindexter and Ervin Bratcher in grabbing a rebound from Kankakee players in sophomore game.

Varsity plays average season

Thornton's varsity basketball squad finished the 1959-60 season with a somewhat average record of 14 wins and 13 losses. Wildcats placed fourth in the South Suburban league with a 5-5 record, losing twice to Kankakee and Lockport.

After winning the first game of the season over East Aurora, 65-58, Coach Bill Purden's inexperienced squad lost three in a row—Joliet, 63-54; Argo, 53-45; and La Grange, 62-54. The Joliet game sidelined the Wildcats' only returning letterman, Bob Caress, for over half the season.

After this early shake up, the 'Cats couldn't get back on the winning track.

Thornton defeated a weak Bloom team twice during this year's campaign. In tournament play the Wildcats were beaten in the title game of the Regional by Carl Sandburg, 46-43.

Thornton's junior varsity basketball team completed another great season with a 9-2 record. Coach Frank Bauman lead his boys to easy victories over their first two opponents—Argo, 56-37, and Blue Island, 73-37. Then they tasted defeat as they were trounced by Bloom, 74-44. JV's other loss came at the hands of West Rockford. The sophomore squad played part of the game.

Thornton's JV team gained overwhelming victories over Joliet, 96-51; Galesburg, 59-38; Kankakee, 65-44; and Bloom, 68-42.

They ended the season averaging better than 62 points a game.

Outstanding players on the junior varsity squad this year were John McKibben, Len Dabon, Bill Bell, Renault Banks, and Gil Schultz. All players showed good potential for the varsity.

Sophs, frosh produce winners

Coach Bob Anderson produced another winning sophomore basketball team as his boys compiled a 12-5 record for the 1959-60 season. They had an 8-2 league record, finishing second behind Bloom, which had a 9-1 record.

Lead by Ervin Bratcher, Larry Muehring, Bruce Clark, Willie Randle El, and Reuben Poindexter, Sophs won eight straight league games before being upset by Blue Island, 50-49. Their other four losses were to Bloom, Joliet, LaGrange, and Rich.

Behind the expert coaching of Don McAlvey, Thornton's freshman basketball squad finished the year with an impressive 7-4 record. After opening the season by trouncing Argo, 58-19, and Blue Island, 58-33, the frosh lost a one-point thriller to Bloom, 36-35. To close the season the Wildkits squeaked past Blue Island, 38-37, and took revenge for their early loss to Bloom, 54-49.

Top players for the frosh were Terry Petrow, Charles Halbert, Franklin Charles, and Jim Harris.

Swimmers capture

With thirteen returning lettermen, Thornton's varsity swimming team, coached by Frank Froschauer, captured their fifteenth straight South Suburban League title. Tankmen splashed away from their league opponents with 42 points ahead of the closest team, Argo.

Varsity swimmers racked up an impressive 10-2 season record. Figuring in most of these victories were Jack Schiltz, Nelson Smith, Bob Burdett, Klem Osika, Tom McCaslin, and Bob Ring.

The Wildcats started the regular season by dunking Bloom 63-23 and ended it by scoring a lop-sided 74-12 victory over Morton. Their only losses came by the team of Riverside-Brookfield, 44-42 and 49-37.

In the state swimming tournament at Evanston, Jack Schiltz was the only Thornton swimmer to place, taking fifth in the breast stroke.

league title again

Thornton's frosh-soph swimming team, coached by Mel DeGraff, broke even in twelve dual meets and came in a close second to Argo in the South Suburban League Meet.

After a shaky start, losing to Argo, 45-39, and Bremen, 50-34, the Merkits came back to win four straight contests with Bloom, Elgin, Morton, and Lockport. Frosh-Soph defeated Bloom again before bowing to Hinsdale, 46-38, to close the 1959-60 season.

Thornton's Merkits won by their biggest margin with a 56-28 decision over Elgin.

Top swimmers for the Frosh-Soph squad were John Munn and Captain Claude Steele.

Matcats win titles

Thornton's varsity wrestling squad failed to defend their state wrestling title, finishing fourth, behind Waukegan, Pekin, and East Leyden.

Coach Ted Czech's grapplers captured the South Suburban District and Sectional titles in their march to Champaign. Thornton sent seven wrestlers to the finals—Joe Hawkins, Jerry Gruszczyk, Wayne Miller, Steve Galberth, Len Fiocca, Abbidula Randle El, and Jerry Torrence. Fiocca gained top honors for Thornton with a second place. Galberth and Randle El finished third and fourth respectively.

Thornton ended the regular season with an 8-2-1 record. Six of the varsity regulars will return next year, to boast a strong team.

Warm-up before a match.

Coach Jack Robinson's frosh-soph wrestling team came up with a very creditable 8-2 season record. After winning their first six meets from Rich, Blue Island, Bloom, Carl Sandburg, Lockport, and New Trier, Thornton's matkits were upended by Joliet, 29-17. In the Reavis tourney they captured third place in a field of eight teams—Don Brackins, Joe Warnell, and Larry Jackson placing first in their weight divisions.

Top wrestlers for the frosh-soph squad were Joe Warnell, who went undefeated in fourteen matches, Leroy Jackson, Fred Aprati, Cliff Hawkins, and Glen Weaver, all sophomores. Top frosh were Dave Blake, Tony Fulmer, and Walter Sanders.

Two baseball teams

Thornton's varsity stickmen, guided by Bob Blaha, had an excellent 1959 season. They ended the year with a 9-5 overall record and a 3-4 league record. Highlighting the campaign was a district championship over Joliet, 9-2, in the state tournament. Roy Jensen pitched a no-hitter in the second game in district play as Thornton defeated Bremen, 2-0. Batcats lost the first game of the regional tournament to Evergreen Park, 4-2.

Taking charge of pitching chores for the varsity team were Nick Altavilla, Joe Hemingway, Gil Schultz, and Roy Jensen. Top hitters for Thornton were Dave Lazeau, Bob Caress, and Claude Kracik.

Thornton came into the 1960 season with seven returning lettermen—Nick Altavilla, Bob Caress, Vince Coppens, Bob Gundaker, Claude Kracik, Wayne Miller, and Gil Schultz.

continue their wins

Last year's Frosh-Soph baseball team completed the season with an excellent 9-2 overall mark. Coach Ron Ferguson's Kits compiled a perfect 7-0 league record for the second consecutive year in taking their second straight South Suburban league title. They gained overwhelming victories over Blue Island, 17-8; Kankakee, 15-0; Thornton Fractional, 14-7; and Argo, 11-1.

Outstanding players on the Frosh-Soph squad were Bernard Arendt, Al Dehnert, Dennis Gustavson, Terry Johnson, John McKibben and Fred Lindsay. The captain of the team was John Kwasny.

Five South Suburban league games and five non-conference games were scheduled for the baseball team in the regular 1960 season. Their first game was with Homewood-Flossmoor, a new school with a new team playing its first season.

Frank Bauman lead his 1959 varsity track team to a creditable 5-2 regular season mark. Thornton's Cindermen defeated Oak Lawn in the first meet, 60½-57½. They went on to take a second in a triangular meet with Kankakee and Blue Island.

Tracksters qualified their mile relay team, composed of Renault Banks, Larry Asmussen, Ed Scott, and Lou Hanecek, and their best miler, Charles Lambert, for the state meet but Thornton scored no points as Bloom won again.

In the South Suburban league meet, varsity trackmen took third behind Bloom and Kankakee. Outstanding men of last year's squad were Stan Hunter, Ted Baker, Dennis Treadwell, Al Denzy, and Len Johnson. Denzy set a new school record in the discus. Eight returning lettermen started the 1960 campaign.

Thornton's 1959 Frosh-Soph track team, coached by Mel De Graff and Ted Czech, wound up with a 4-3 record. They came in fourth in the conference meet.

GAA sponsors sports. . . .

Girls Athletic Association has really surged ahead this year by sponsoring a variety of new activities. Among these was "Date Night," a turn-about affair conducted much the same as a Gym Jam. Games such as shuffleboard, ping pong, volleyball, and table tennis were offered along with swimming and dancing. Parents Play Night is always a big hit with the girls for it is their chance to outdo their parents.

Another important activity was "Winner Wonderland," the GAA banquet in February, at which time awards were given for the sports seasons and the Posture Queen was crowned. The contest in which she was selected was a new feature this year. Judging and eliminations were held in gym classes. After several weeks of secrecy, the name of the queen, Pat Altier, a senior, was announced.

"Cherchez la Femme" was the theme of the swim pageant, presented in the boys pool on April 7, 8, and 9. Girls worked long and hard hours after school to present to Thornton one of its best swim shows—an every-other-year affair.

Main purpose of GAA is to organize and develop skills, good sportsmanship, and constructive use of leisure time.

This year's sports included volleyball, synchronized swim, bowling, softball, basketball, and modern dance. A girl is considered a member after she has completed one sports season lasting eight weeks; there are four sports seasons a year.

Boys intramurals

As the years go by, intramurals for boys grow in popularity at Thornton. They are planned to keep boys active and interested in school. Approximately five hundred boys participated this year in a variety of sports.

All boys not taking part on varsity teams are eligible for intramurals. In the fall Mr. William Parker and Mr. Carl Mendenhall of the Boys Physical Education Department co-sponsored a round robin basketball tournament. There were three different contests—freshman, sophomore, and junior-senior. Approximately twice as many freshman as sophomore, junior-senior teams competed. Teams which had compiled the best record at the end of a given time were crowned champs of these individual contests.

Ping-pong and chess were the tournaments conducted in the winter. John Van Kley and Jim Boswell gained co-championships in ping-pong. Harold Reill was winner of the round robin chess tournament. Shuffleboard and swimming were also available in the winter intramural sports program, but there were no contests. The two activities were popular nevertheless.

More spring sports than usual were added to boys intramurals. Volleyball, soft ball, bowling, golf, badminton, and horseshoes were the tourneys which started in April and ended in early June. Bowling and golf were the newest sports to be added. Such a large number of boys came out for these activities that an expanded program was necessary to accommodate everyone.

Superintendent enlarges school horizons

Under the leadership of Dr. J. D. Logsdon, Thornton is becoming nationally known. As newly elected first vice-president of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, he presided at one of the convention sessions in Portland, Oregon, last February. Dr. Logsdon had been a member of the executive committee for the past five years.

Last summer, he attended a conference sponsored by the Atlantic Treaty Association, in Oxford, England. He has an active part, at the national level, in promoting curriculum studies.

Board sets sights on future expansion

Board of Education—Row 1: Mrs. Robert C. Pebworth, Mr. Fred T. Ehlert, president; Mr. Harold J. Gouwens. Row 2: Mr. Herbert G. Greiner, Mr. Lou Boudreau, Mr. Robert H. Reese, Mr. Henry Vandenberg.

Now that Thornridge, the second high school in the district, is an accomplished fact, the Board of Education has no time to lean back and relax. Skyrocketing population in the area makes a third school a distinct possibility and in the not too distant future.

Then there is the ever-present problem of finances—money to finish the new school, money to rejuvenate the older buildings at Thornton, and money for future expansion.

Regular meetings, special sessions, and sustained effort in pushing through the completion of Thornridge have kept the entire board donating a good many hours above and beyond the call of duty. Because of such public spirited citizens, the high schools of Thornton Township are assured of a great future.

Mr. Omer W. Renfrow, B.A., B.Ed., M.Ed., Principal of Thornton.

New principals manage the two schools

Waiting for the big day—that was Mr. Sutter's role all summer and fall. Plans were made—and changed—and changed again. From his temporary office in the Board room at Thornton, Mr. Sutter conducted business for the new school.

Then came February 1 and moving day. On February 2, Thornridge opened its doors for students. Immediately the pieces fell into pattern and there was the new school in full working order!

With the first of February, Thornton had a new administrator, too. He is Mr. Omer Renfrow, the new principal. Mr. Renfrow came from Schenectady, New York, but he was no stranger to Illinois. He had been administrative assistant to the superintendent of Evanston High School and he had almost completed work for his doctor's degree at the University of Illinois. He lost no time at all in getting acquainted with faculty and students.

Mr. Harold C. Sutter, B.A., M.A., Principal of Thornridge.

Business Manager

With equipment to purchase for the new school, Mr. Peterson, business manager of Thornton and Thornridge, was busier than ever. Consultations with salesmen and with faculty department heads concerning what was needed, what was available, and what was within the budget were numerous. Getting it delivered and installed at the proper time was often a headache.

In the meantime, there was business as usual in his office—bookkeeping for all school organizations, managing bus transportation, and seeing that every student had an identification card.

School Counsel

Every school needs the services of a lawyer. Contracts, land purchases, legal procedures are all part of Mr. Evans' job as school attorney. Interpretation of school laws of the state and federal governments needs his expert attention.

All the money of all the schools of Thornton Township is in the care of Mr. Waldschmidt, township treasurer. He receives funds but cannot pay them out until authorized by the school.

Mr. A. F. Waldschmidt, Township Treasurer; Mr. Burton Evans, School Attorney.

Mr. James L. Beck, Assistant to the Superintendent

Asst. Superintendent

As assistant to the superintendent, Mr. Beck is responsible for acting as substitute in Dr. Logsdon's absence. Keeping classes supplied with substitute teachers has him more than busy when flu season is in full swing.

Mr. J. A. Peterson, Business Manager

Dean of Girls

Miss Helene E. Wilson, B.A., M.A., Dean of Girls at Thornton, Purple X Committee.

Deans

Thornton deans help students solve their problems, big and little, personal and academic.

Dean of girls is also sponsor of the Girls Club and its many activities. The club trains members in handling group social affairs, in promoting good scholarship and general welfare, and in taking part in school activities.

Dean of boys sponsors the Boys Club and the Hall Guard Organization. Counseling Thornton boys is part of his responsibility, too. Some discipline problems come his way.

Senior Principal

Mr. Carl L. Beier, B.Ed., M.S., Thornton.

Junior Principal

Mr. Guy Phillips, B.A., M.A., Thornton.

Principals

Dean of Boys

Mr. Arnold F. Koester, M.A., Dean of Boys at Thornton, vice-principal at Thornridge.

College-bound seniors had special attention from their principal this year. Other principals shared in helping those seniors planning other types of careers. Discipline problems, keeping track of credits, counseling with parents on their students' problems and helping faculty deal with difficult situations kept all four class principals busy. When division into Thornton and Thornridge came with the second semester, new counselors were added.

Through their several offices, attendance problems were handled. Student secretaries made daily phone calls to homes of absentees.

Sophomore Principal

Mr. John E. Tilton, B.S., M.A., Asst. Thornridge Principal.

Freshman Principal

Mr. G. R. Valbert, M.S., Thornton.

Mrs. Ruth J. Harms, B.A., M.A., Thornton.

Class Counselor

Dividing faculty and administrative staff between Thornton and Thornridge made it necessary to change several people from classroom teachers to class counselors.

Mrs. Ruth J. Harms exchanged her math classroom for an office on counselors' row. She had had previous counseling experience on the faculty of LaSalle-Peru Township High School, where she was first a class adviser and then dean of girls.

Mr. Melvin DeGraff, B.S., M.A., Thornton.

Miss Marthalou Gray, B.S., M.S., Thornton.

Class Counselor

Miss Marthalou Gray became a counselor last fall. She transferred from her position of head of the Girls Physical Education Department to her new office.

In her previous position, Miss Gray had had much experience in counseling girls. Besides supervising gym classes, she had taught health and first-aid courses and had promoted the extra-curricular organization, Girls Athletic Association.

Dean of Boys

Mr. Melvin DeGraff, known to everyone as Mel, is a Thornton graduate. For several years he has been in the Boys Physical Education Department, not only as teacher in gym classes but as coach of the frosh-soph swim team.

Besides coaching swimming, he assisted last fall in football and this spring in track. When Mr. Koester moved to Thornridge, Mr. DeGraff became sponsor of the Thornton Boys Club.

Gordon, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. N. A. Perlman, financial secretary.

Parents, Teachers

Thornton Parent-Teacher Association is a very active organization. Among its special program features this year were the traditional "Meet-the-Teachers" night, the Hi-Jinx Carnival, and the Christmas concert with music by TTHS instrumental and choral groups. New was sponsorship of the gymnastic show put on by Gymnastics Club, with Mr. Foerch as coach.

Parent-Teacher Association has scholarship and welfare funds available to students.

Faculty Association—Row 1: Miss Marthalou Gray, vice-president; Mr. Paul Wessel, treasurer; Miss Florence Wunderlich, board of directors; Mr. Henry R. Harms, president. Row 2: Mr. Paul W. Liehr, board; Miss Edith Sowers, secretary; Mr. Robert P. Hanrahan, board.

Faculty Assn.

First Faculty Association meeting of the second semester had a record attendance. Thornridge members were glad to get back to their old stamping grounds and Thornton teachers were happy to chat with old friends.

Problems of reorganization along with salary recommendations and other welfare matters were discussion topics at all meetings. Equal representation of the two high schools and the junior college among the association board and officers was solved without difficulty. At year's end the association gained rather than lost by distribution of members between the two high schools.

Main offices in the new wing are the heart of Thornton activities. In the Business Office are handled all organization accounts, transportation arrangements, and orders for departmental equipment. Big job of the year was equipping the new school. For faculty and staff, the Business Office meant pay checks.

In the Registrar's Office are kept the individual records of all students. A new report card system and separation of records for students who would remain at Thornton and those who would move to Thornridge required much planning and many a change in routine.

Tiers of faculty mailboxes in the main office expanded for the fall semester and contracted in February when faculty assigned to the new school moved over to Thornridge. Switchboard operations were frustrating for a while as the new direct line to Thornridge was being installed, but that difficulty was soon over and as easily forgotten.

Cafeteria, Building staffs help movers

Cafeteria staff members looked forward to the day when the opening of Thornridge would mean less crowded lunchrooms at Thornton. The difference was immediately noticeable. After all, there were a thousand mouths less to feed!

Menus for the two schools were coordinated. Miss Waterman became director of both cafeterias and moved her office to the new school. Mrs. Lyon, assistant director, took charge at Thornton. Most of the staff remained at Thornton and a new one began work at Thornridge.

When Mr. Glogowski became Mr. Doster's assistant at Thornridge, he got himself into a real job. He learned the ropes first at Thornton while Mr. Doster checked on building operations at Thornridge. He was always cheerful no matter what the demands of the faculty. Mrs. Williams, their secretary, lived in a world papered with work orders. With all the headaches and frustrations of a new building, they could still laugh, sometimes.

When it came time to move, that week-end between semesters, the maintenance staff fell to and did a tremendous amount of clean-up work at Thornridge. Cafeteria women did their share, too, of getting things ready to feed the hungry ones. They all wondered how they would ever get the place in order for the first day, but they managed.

Helping faculty pack and transport their classroom belongings was no small part of what the maintenance staff accomplished.

Some of the Thornton staff moved over to Thornridge, just as the faculty did. They formed a nucleus of experienced personnel so that operations there would be as smooth as possible.

Grad Ushers, NHS

Graduation ushers are appointed from the junior class according to their scholastic ranking. Of these twenty-five top scholars, the two highest girls are designated as guides. Ushers assist the audience and help to establish the line of march. The guides, together with two faculty marshals chosen by the senior class officers, lead the processional on graduation night.

Senior Leaders

Members of National Honor Society are chosen each spring from a candidate list given to the faculty. To be eligible, a senior must rank in the upper 25 per cent of his class and a junior must carry a "B" average. Membership is limited to 15 per cent of the graduating class, one third of which may be elected as juniors. Junior appointees serve as the active members during their senior year, electing officers, raising funds, and holding business meetings.

Senior Class Senate consists of one representative chosen from each home room. It is the first duty of senators to assist in the election of senior class officers, nominated from the class at large. The class counselor, with the aid of officers and senate, conducts the business meetings of the class throughout the year. Important decisions relating to the prom, the play, and to graduation are made and relayed to the rest of the class through reports of their senators.

NHS Officers—Nelson Smith, president; Linda Dybas, secretary; Phil Hohmann, treasurer.

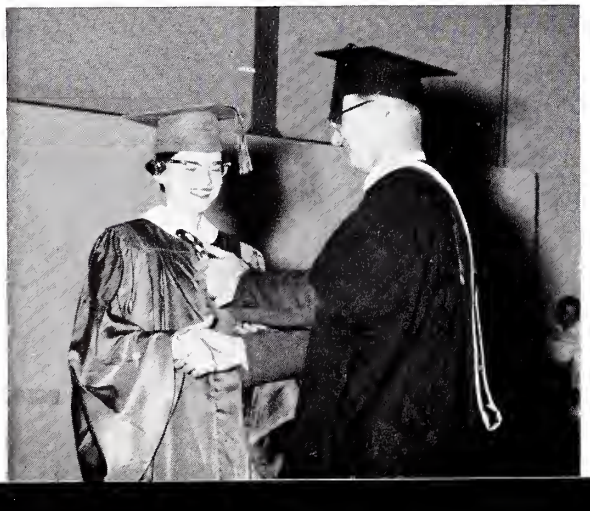
Thorntonite honors are announced

Two end-of-the-year activities are as traditional as the commencement itself. Flag Day is an all-school tribute to the national banner. Seniors march for the first time in their graduation robes.

At the assembly on Honors Day, citations are made for scholastic and athletic achievements, and the new NHS members are announced.

Seniors forget how hot and crowded it is at commencement time as they march up to receive their diplomas, earned by four years of hard work.

Sue Lentz, '59 grad, gets her diploma from Mr. Tilton.



Thorntonites gather for Flag Day ceremonies.

Juniors have had a busy time this year. What with choosing and ordering rings, helping to make plans for the biggest event in their school lives—the Prom—and checking their credits toward graduation, they have kept going.

This was the year the Juniors started thinking seriously about college. They were urged to consult college catalogues, college field representatives, and their own class adviser about their preparations. Many juniors took the National Merit Scholarship Test as a practice for their senior year. Thornton clubs benefited from their ambition and tireless energy in so many activities.

Last September, 1046 sophomores entered Thornton. At the end of the first semester, 350 of them went to Thornridge. Officers for the class were located in both schools but managed to get together for meetings as needed.

The sophomores were a busy class. Through the efforts of their officers, sophomores entered a float in the Homecoming Parade, carrying out the theme "Moments to Remember". Besides that project they put on a party with the freshmen. The theme for the event, held on May 21, was "Cloud Nine". It was a stag or drag affair with the music by the Swingsters, a sophomore band.

Freshmen also moved by classes

Although this year's freshman class was composed of both Thornton and Thornridge students, only one set of officers was elected to represent the separated classes. In order that candidates' scholastic records might be checked, elections weren't held until the second semester. Unlike the upper classes, freshmen have no senate.

Under the guidance of its counsellor, the class was able to enter a float in the Homecoming Parade. Another activity was co-sponsorship with the sophomore class of the annual Frosh-Soph Party held late in the school year.

PURPLE X

Purple X Dances

Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of a world-shaking day in a far-away year,
'Twas in nineteen hundred and thirty-seven
When the thought of going straight to heaven
Right after the basketball games and such Seemed to please Thornton students much.
For as soon as the final whistle blew
And they wanted something else to do,
They'd dash to the street, and with absolute scorn,
(Ignoring each motorist's shrill-blasting horn)
Would snake-dance through town, all hands clasped tight,
And often continue far into the night.
However, their imminent heav'n-ward ascension
Was luckily stopped by the quick intervention
Of the deans and the students and P.T.A. too,
Who met to decide just what Thornton should do.
And out of these meetings came Thornton's big chance—
The idea of having a Purple X Dance.
Though twenty-three years have gone by since that day,
Purple X is still here and, we hope, here to stay,
And to the class of 1960
We wish the best fortune for many a day.
